

Small Business To Profit Most From Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Small-business men would be among the most favored beneficiaries of President Kennedy's tax program, a study indicated today. Their cuts would total about $1.2 billion if the plan wins approval.

Small-business spokesmen were among the gentlest critics of the tax proposals in House Ways and Means Committee hearings on the tax bill last week. But, in language exactly like that of the big-business witnesses, they:

1. Urged curtailed federal spending to offset the revenue loss; and

2. Opposed many of the tax reforms by which Kennedy hopes to cushion the loss—including even some changes which were designed expressly to help small firms.

The small-business witnesses, however, left the net impression that they want tax reduction badly and would be pleased to take the Kennedy plan—with several reservations.

"We are well aware that probably the greatest benefit flowing from the proposed reduction in rates would accrue to the small business community," said John A. Gosnell, general counsel of the National Small Business Association.

Although the Treasury has said that the Kennedy tax package is stuffed with special bonuses for small businesses, the department never has added up the tax savings which would accrue to the several types of firms affected—sole proprietors, partnerships and small corporations.

Data from the Small Business Administration indicates, however, that these groups would save roughly $1.2 billion under the individual income and business tax changes—a surprisingly large figure, since it is equivalent to nearly half the proposed $2.6 billion reduction in corporation rates.

The savings would go to these groups:

—About $233 million, by Treasury estimate, to the 475,000 corporations having earnings of $25,000 a year or less. This would result from cutting the normal corporation tax rate from 30 to 22 per cent.

—Another $200 million, as indicated by SBA figures, to firms classified by that agency as small businesses but having profits above $25,000. This would result from the drop in the total corporation tax rate from 52 per cent to 47 per cent.

—About $800 million for unincorporated small business owners and partnerships. This is the estimated effect of the individual income tax cuts on smaller operators, excluding most professional groups and individuals engaged in farming, fishing and forestry.

Pope John XXIII clasps his hands in prayer during the beatification ceremony for Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton, the first American-born person to reach the threshold of sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church. Above is a view of the beatification rites in St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City. Mother Seton was a distant relative of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and was a convert to the church in colonial America. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Rome)

First American At Threshold Of Church Sainthood

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Mother Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton has become the first native-born American beatified by the Roman Catholic Church, bringing her to the doorstep of sainthood.

Watching the joyous ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica Sunday was Anne Theresia O'Neill, 15, of Baltimore, whose cure from leukemia (blood cancer) was attributed to the miraculous intercession of the 19th-century nun.

The Maryland teen-ager, who snapped the climax of the morning rites with a tiny camera, finished her day by kissing the ring of Pope John XXIII, who came later in the evening for the first public veneration of Mother Seton.

Political Foes Rib Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian liberals are ribbing Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and other campaign rivals with a cartoon coloring book for the voters.

Diefenbaker shows up in four drawings. The Conservative leader, whose refusal to stockpile U.S. nuclear warheads for Canadian missiles was a factor in the overthrow of his government, is caricatured with sagging jowls and characteristically curly hair.

One drawing shows him riding backward on a hobby horse, a sword uplifted in his right hand. "This is the leader," the caption says.

"He is trying to go two ways at once."

"Sometimes he tries to go three. Most of the time he doesn't move at all."

"Color him in reverse."

The armed forces situation is touched on in a picture of a helmeted airman with a needle-nosed plane in the background. "This is a Canadian fighter pilot."

"He flies for NATO."

"All the other NATO pilots have planes that fight good."

"The Canadian pilot doesn't."

"Color him highly embarrassed."

There are no remarks, humorous or otherwise, about the Liberal party in the 50,000 copies of the booklet.

"Elizabeth Seton is the first officially recognized flower of sanctity which the United States of America offers to the world," the 81-year-old pontiff told 6,000 persons at the twilight service.

Chapel Shrine Planned
"It is a source of satisfaction to us to pay such a tribute to that illustrious nation, as an augury for further advance in spiritual progress. For the first time there has appeared in glory above the altar of the chair of St. Peter a heroine of the United States of America."

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, translated the Pope's Italian words into English. Joseph Elmer Cardinal Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, knelt to listen.

Cardinal Spellman cabled his archdiocese that a lady chapel honoring Mother Seton will be built near the site of her onetime home, across from New York City's Battery Park.

According to custom, the Pope did not attend the two-hour beatification ceremony in the morning. Canon Msgr. Emilio Ruffini read the 10-page decree of beatification.

"I'm overwhelmed," said Anne O'Neill. "I can't find words to express how I feel. It was wonderful."

Behind the girl was a tapestry symbolically depicting her cure from usually fatal leukemia 11 years ago. This was one of the two miracles required for recognition of a candidate as blessed.

The other was the cure of Sister Gertrude Korzenkendorfer of cancer of the pancreas in 1934.

Mother Of Five
Two more carefully investigated miracles are required before Mother Seton can be proclaimed a saint.

Mother Seton, born in New York Aug. 28, 1774, was raised an Episcopalian, married and became the mother of five children.

Widowed in 1803 during a trip to Italy, she became a Roman Catholic two years later. Two years after that, she opened a school in Baltimore and Bishop John Carroll suggested that she take religious vows. She did and established the Sisters of Charity, the first order of nuns founded in America.

Roman Catholics credit her with pioneering the parochial school system and modern Catholic social services.

She died in 1821.

Latin American Presidents Confer With Kennedy Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's Democratic senators, Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara, have proposed revised legislation to establish a Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore in Upper Michigan.

The senators said Sunday the new legislation contains changes that were worked out in consultations with property owners, civic leaders, the Interior Department, and the Michigan Conservation Department.

The park would include two long strips of land lying side-by-side, an inner belt along the Lake Superior shoreline and a "buffer belt" inshore.

The inner belt would be acquired by the park service for the development of tourist facilities and a scenic drive.

A new boundary line was proposed between the inner and buffer belts. This is in accordance with recommendations of the Cleveland-Cliffs Co., the largest property owner in the proposed park.

The secretary of the interior would be authorized to lease cottages or hunting lodges for a period of 25 years or the lifetime of the lessee, provided the dwellings had been built and were under lease Dec. 31, 1962.

Home owners in the buffer belt would be guaranteed permanent possession of their property.

The outer boundary of the proposed lakeshore, including 67,000 acres, would remain intact.

Hart said: "We have been working with many people in the area and are optimistic for a fair and equitable solution. I am convinced that we can enjoy a park that will draw thousands of tourists while preserving the economic benefits of timbering."

Michigan Dries To Have Ticket

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Prohibitionists will offer candidates at the 1964 general election under their former name of Michigan Prohibition Party.

E. H. Munn of Hillsdale, national chairman of the Prohibition party, presided at a meeting of state party members here Saturday. The group reversed a decision of two years ago which changed its name to the American Christian Party.

It also adopted a resolution endorsing the state's proposed constitution even though all the 35 delegates heretofore not in accord with all provisions of the document.

Other resolutions endorsed reading the Bible in public schools without comment or interpretation; condemned gambling in any form and favored in general the idea of Sunday closing.

D. D. Gibbons of Kalamazoo was elected state chairman of the party. Other officers are: Mrs. Paul Kenworthy of Detroit, William J. Persons, Kalamazoo, and Harold Lindahl, Iron River, vice chairmen; Philip Fisher, Flint, secretary, and Paul Kyburz, Lansing, treasurer.

Russians Claim New Missile Can Strike Anywhere

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union claims it has intercontinental bombers whose air-ground missiles can strike any place on the globe.

A Soviet correspondent, who said he flew a mission in one of the bombers, said the plane's captain told him the planes never came closer than a few hundred miles to target and "this is why it is practically impossible for the enemy to hit us with his anti-aircraft defenses."

The Defense Department in Washington said the equipment sounded similar to the U.S. Hound Dog missile.

Highway Mishaps Take Five Lives Over Week End

By The Associated Press
The deaths of two teen-agers, whose car police said apparently was racing another, raised Michigan's traffic toll to five for winter's last weekend.

Willie Hunter Jr., 17, and Satira Brown, 14, both of Detroit, were killed when the car in which they were riding went out of control Sunday and hit a tree in Highland Park.

The driver of the car, LaVern Hill, 17, of Detroit was ordered held for investigation of manslaughter, after police said they learned he apparently was racing another car when he lost control.

In addition to the five traffic fatalities, there was a drowning death over the weekend. A 9-year-old Lowell boy fell from a cable across the swift moving Flat River near Grand Rapids.

Rains Bring New 3-State Floods

By The Associated Press
Heavy rains over the weekend caused new flooding in the Ohio River valley as stormy weather pounded broad areas of the nation.

The fresh floods which hit sections of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia were the second within a week and came as many communities were cleaning up from last week's destructive overflows. Flooding also was reported in parts of Tennessee and New York State.

Snow, rain, hail and tornadoes made up the incoherent weather pattern for the winter season's last weekend. Spring starts at 3:20 a.m. EST Thursday.

A snowstorm which swept across areas in the Dakotas and Minnesota, dumping up to 15 inches of snow in Rapid City, S.D., tapered off as it moved eastward.

More snow fell in northern sections of Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, while hail, rain and snow hit Southern California areas. A man and three children were killed Sunday during a snowstorm near Flagstaff, Ariz., when the station wagon in which they were riding skidded on an icy road and crashed into a bus.

Tornadoes struck in Alabama, Iowa and Georgia.

A twister lashed Centerville, in central Alabama, injuring three persons and damaging 65 to 70 houses and buildings. Tornadoes swept three separate rural areas in Iowa but no one was injured.

Twisters also hit three north Georgia areas but damage was minor and no injuries were reported.

Nikita Won't Go To Peking

MOSCOW (AP) — Most diplomats here expect Soviet Premier Khrushchev to turn down Communist Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung's proposal that the two meet in Peking to thrash out their ideological dispute.

Western sources here believe Khrushchev was embarrassed by the Chinese initiative and would suffer a great loss of prestige in making a pilgrimage to their capital.

However, Stephan Chervonenko, Soviet ambassador to Peking, was reported here discussing the invitation with top Communist party officials. It is also assumed he saw Khrushchev before the premier started on a pep-talk tour of chemical factories en route to a Black Sea vacation.

Tired Of Noise, Families Return To Bleak Island

TILBURY, England (AP) — Freed of noise and money worries, 51 men, women and children sailed through the English Channel today bound for their old homes on the bleak South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha.

The islanders were evacuated in 1961 after a volcanic explosion made their homes temporarily uninhabitable. Several hundred more will go back later this year.

"Money, money, money. Noise, noise, noise. Worry, worry, worry," summed up their reaction to England.

Goulart Angered By U.S. Story On Reds In Brazil

BRASILIA (AP) — President Joao Goulart has reacted angrily to U.S. assertions that Communists have infiltrated his government.

Goulart demanded that President Kennedy personally clarify the charge made by the State Department in a published statement to the House subcommittee on Latin-American affairs.

The Brazilian president ordered his finance minister, Francisco San Tiago Dantas, to suspend negotiations, now going on in Washington, for more U.S. dollar aid.

The president apparently was influenced by powerful left-wing nationalists among whom anti-American sentiment frequently runs high.

The House report showed that the Communist infiltration claim was originally made by U.S. Ambassador Lincoln Gordon, but the State Department in Washington accepted full responsibility and said it should not be attributed to Gordon.

Nevertheless, it appeared that Gordon's future usefulness in Brazil had been seriously impaired. The pipe-smoking former Harvard professor has been personally close to Goulart and other members of the Brazilian government. His suggestions to Goulart have sometimes carried enough weight to be issued as official recommendations.

Diplomats here were surprised at Brazil's touchy reaction since the charge has frequently been made in this country. They also were puzzled, that the State Department chose this particular time to make it public in Washington.

Americans Freed In Cuba Tell Of Missile Testing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two American women, the first of more than 20 American prisoners expected to be freed from Cuban jails within six weeks, claim that while in prison they heard Russians test-firing missiles.

"I don't think they could be small ones," one woman said. "They shook the prison bars in our hands."

The women were released unexpectedly Sunday, "with no strings attached," according to James Donovan, the New York lawyer who negotiated their freedom.

Donovan said the other native-born Americans will be released when delivery of the $53-million Bay of Pigs prisoner ransom was completed. That should take about six weeks, he said.

Donovan also said Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro had agreed to free nine skin divers arrested six weeks ago if the New York attorney could prove them innocent of counterrevolutionary activity.

One of the women, who spent more than two years in Cuban jails, said the Soviets are testing missiles at an underground rock quarry six miles from Guanajay Prison, 15 miles from Havana. That is one of the sites where the Soviets installed intermediate range missiles before last October's Cuban crisis.

Geraldine Shamma, a native of Boston, said the tests were conducted every three or four days and were powerful enough to shake the bars of the prison. Mrs. Shamma said prison guards, who became her friends during 29 months confinement, told her the missiles are being test-fired in a horizontal shaft leading from the quarry.

The stocky, gray-haired Mrs. Shamma said she was instructed not to divulge any information because it might prejudice the Cuban regime against the remaining Cuban prisoners.

Pickets March At Refrigeration Plant In Niles

NILES (AP)—Pickets marched today outside Tyler Refrigeration Corp. where a new contract dispute has become a strike by Allied Industrial Workers Local 816.

Garold Quick, local president, said the unit was striking "reluctantly" in order to qualify for strike benefits from the union.

He announced Saturday at a membership meeting union officers had learned the Employment Security Commission would deny unemployment benefits sought by the local members.

Some of the local's 325 members started filing for MESC benefits last week after the company closed its gates on grounds it needed a firm contract with the union in order to continue operations.

Tyler's former contract with the local expired Feb. 28 but had been extended to March 8 while negotiations continued.

Republics Seek U.S. Aid To Beat Business Slump

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—President Kennedy sits down today with the chiefs of five Central American republics and Panama to discuss how the United States can help them promote economic union.

Some of the Latin American presidents indicated they also wanted to plan steps to check the spread of communism from Fidel Castro's Cuba, but informants said Kennedy sent a message asking that the conferees avoid consideration of joint measures against Castro at this time.

Kennedy reportedly asked that the three-day conference concern economic integration of the Central American states.

The President issued an order to his finance minister, Francisco San Tiago Dantas to suspend his negotiations in Washington for more U.S. aid. Informants said, however, that Foreign Minister Hermes Lima persuaded Goulart to withdraw the order.

Informants said the decision to permit the Washington talks to continue in no way weakened Goulart's determination to get clarification of the statement.

President Francisco J. Orlich of Costa Rica has stressed that a prime issue is Central America's integration into a common market of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. They hope that Panama will join eventually.

Hurt By Price Cuts
The Central American leaders hope to get moral support and financial aid from the United States under Kennedy's Alliance for Progress. They were expected to give Kennedy a list of economic measures they consider most urgent. The primarily agrarian states have been hit hard by drops in world prices for coffee and other commodities.

The five visiting presidents held a three-hour conference with Orlich Sunday. No formal statement was issued, but President Ramon Villeda Morales of Honduras said they discussed only economic matters.

"There was absolute agreement among all the presidents," he said.

It appeared doubtful that Kennedy would be able to sidestep the Cuban problem altogether.

The president-elect of Nicaragua, Rene Schickel, told a news conference that the Cuban issue should be settled as soon as possible through regional action under the inter-American system.

Castro Cautious
The chairman of the Organization of American States, Gonzalo J. Facio of Costa Rica, predicted in Washington Sunday that the conference would forge a joint policy to topple communism in Cuba.

Prime Minister Castro derided the San Jose conference.

"The imperialists know they are sitting on a volcano all over the Americas," he said over Havana television.

Accompanying Kennedy to the conference were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Assistant Secretary Edwin M. Martin, specialist in inter-American affairs; Teodoro Moscoso, U.S. coordinator for the Alliance for Progress, and Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Reps. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., William S. Mailliard, R-Calif., and Armistead I. Selden Jr., D-Ala.

ARMY ABOLISHED
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Costa Ricans, hosts this week to the meeting of President Kennedy with the presidents of Central American countries and Panama, are especially proud of two things:

1. This is a country where the Constitution has abolished the army, instead of the usual reverse pattern. The 1,200 members of the Civil Guard are the nation's only armed force. They perform police duties.

2. Costa Rica has more schools than soldiers. Illiteracy is 20 per cent, compared to an average of about 60 per cent in the rest of Central America.

This dual effort of raising education and reducing militarism has paid off by giving Costa Rica a tradition of democracy.

In this century there have been

Striking French Miners March Into Industrial Towns

PARIS (AP) — Striking coal miners started a three-day series of marches into industrial cities today to support their demands for more pay and a shorter work week.

The strike, prolonged in open defiance of President Charles de Gaulle, went into its third week today. It has attracted growing support from other unions, the Roman Catholic Church and the public.

Area Development Still Has Ace In Land Ownerships

An area development workshop held in Marquette Friday emphasized that, although their numbers are down — farmers and agencies serving them — may still provide major leadership for economic recovery in the Upper Peninsula.

Speakers at the meeting at the Northwoods Restaurant pointed out that landowners influence many of the basic resources that affect the total U.P. economy and also, possibly because they're scattered thin throughout the area, they are encouraged to cooperate and approach problems with a regional concept.

U.S. Soil Conservation Service Assistant State Conservationist Harold Lakin of East Lansing said "Today, as never before, farmers must go beyond their farming units to solve problems — and agencies serving them must think in terms of community action as well as on-the-farm service."

Friday's meeting was attended by state and federal agencies connected with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Areas Development program and many of those associated with the U.S. Department of Commerce's Area Redevelopment Administration program. In many U.P. areas, committees of UPCA (Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems) and county planning commissions, serve as lay groups to direct both programs.

Although the name has been changed, the U.P. has had a rural development program in progress for six years. Planning efforts have helped create new wood using plants in Newberry, Gladstone and Iron River, a general upgrading of tourist facilities and services and in some school systems.

A major current concern of local citizens is the need for processing county overall economic development programs so they will provide more immediate guidance to local development efforts and yet meet standards to qualify for federal aid.

A change in suggested ARA handling of the "OEDPs" was announced by Aarne Ervast of Laurium, field representative for the Michigan Economic Development Department. The plan formerly called for preliminary programs to be followed by comprehensive plans. The new plan now calls for a continuing process of reviewing the OEDP with emphasis on keeping it updated.

The ARA has established minimum standards for the programs and has emphasized that the policy change doesn't mean a community shouldn't continue research into all possible development opportunities and keep their plans up to date. There will, however, be no so-called comprehensive program required.

Ervast said the Michigan Economic Development Department is mainly promotional oriented, it must look to many agencies to provide technical and planning assistance and he mentioned the aid given by Michigan State University county Extension directors throughout Michigan.

Two ARA officials — William Jewell, regional supervisor from Detroit and Tom Angeli, field coordinator from Iron River — reported on approved and pending ARA projects in the U.P. Of the eight approved ARA projects in Michigan, three are in the U.P. They are: the Marquette and Huron Mountain Railroad which is associated with Marquette County's Superiorland project, the Copper Peak Recreation Area in Gogebic County; and Northboard particle board plant in Iron River.

Applications for industrial and commercial loans have been submitted for the Crystal Falls Township Industrial Water project and the Great Lakes Wood & Toy Co., in Iron County, the Indianhead Mountain Access Road in Gogebic County, the Cliffs Ridge Resort and North Range Mine expansion projects in Marquette County.

Space Project Books Offered

By RUTH THOMAS
Menominee County Librarian

Who does not recall the exciting, memorable and historic experience of the first American in space on Feb. 20, 1962?

Where does a John Glenn or Alan Shepard or a Walter Scherr come from? By what process is an American astronaut selected? An astronaut must have courage and piloting skill, of course. There are also the qualities of faith and aspiration which make a man an astronaut. But what hurdles must be cleared to wind up in the contoured cockpit of a "Friendship 7" or "Sigma 7" Mercury capsule, or to qualify for the future two-man Gemini flights or three-man Apollo journeys to the moon.

It is not an easy task to choose astronauts, either for the selectors or for the selected. "It's a task," says Air Force Lt. Col. Charles A. Berry, "of selecting the best from the best."

Col. Berry, chief of Aerospace Medical Operations of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Manned Spacecraft Center, has lived with the selection process from beginning since the original seven were chosen. He also knows how the newest nine, named in September, were winnowed from the number of qualified individual candidates.

Col. Berry has been known to quote the irrepressible General George S. Patton, who once said the ideal World War pilot should be a "tall, short, stout, slim, blonde, brunette, quiet, nervous, languid, alert, reckless, and conservative individual."

Less Than 40
Astronauts are just about as diverse and difficult to label. But they must possess certain traits in common.

Back in 1958, MASA insisted that the seven Mercury astronauts must be at least seven things: less than 40 years old; less than 5 feet 11 inches tall; in excellent physical condition; have a bachelor's degree or equivalent; be a graduate of a test-pilot school; have logged 1,500 hours flying time; and be a qualified jet pilot.

There were 110 men who met these requirements and from that number finally emerged the seven. But in the process they had to survive such various rigors as coping with a "complex behavior simulator," a device that flashes 14 signals at random and is designed to thoroughly confuse and frustrate; walking a treadmill; plunging their feet into a pan of ice and water and leaving them there for seven minutes; sweating in 130 degree temperatures with uncomfortably high relative humidity for two hours; and holding a rolling, pitching, "equilibrium" chair in a straight and level position while blindfolded.

Sample Text
Now, in the book "We Seven," Col. Berry has complete personal and scientific story of the Adventure Of The Century, told by the Astronauts themselves in their own words. Here's a taste of what you will find in the book:

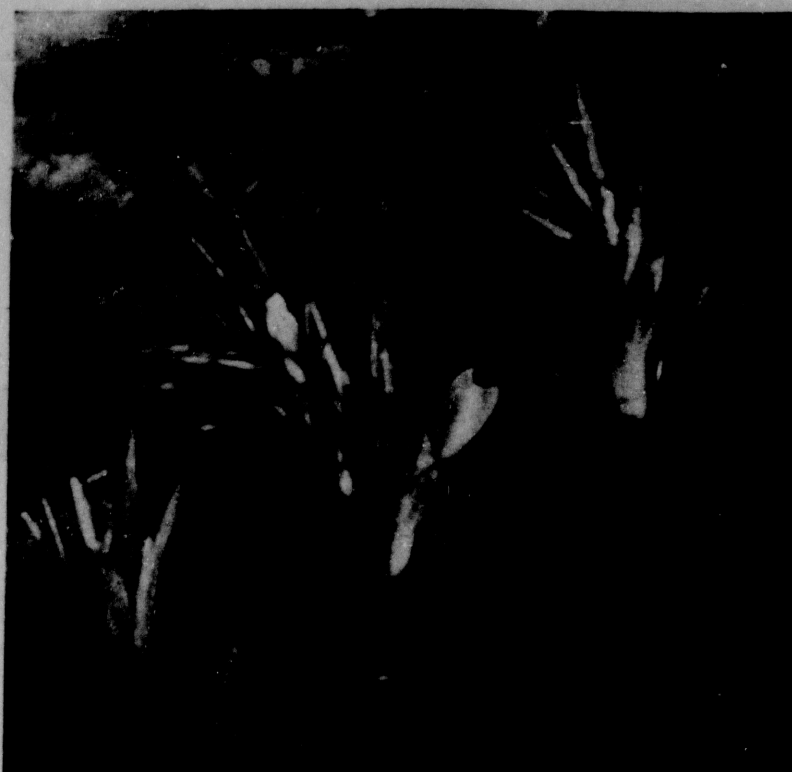

"A real fireball outside . . . I said into the microphone. Just at that moment, I could see big flaming chunks go flying by the window . . . I thought that the heat shield might be tearing apart . . ."

This is part of the account of John Glenn Jr.'s flight into space, as told by Glenn himself in "We Seven."

For younger readers we have the book "What Colonel Glenn Did All Day," by Robert W. Hill. There are 90 photographs.

We also have for younger readers Martin Caidin's "Rendezvous In Space." This is the story of America's man-in-space projects, Mercury, Gemini, Dyna-Soar and Apollo.

Decision Today On Detroit Bid For '68 Olympics

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee met today to decide whether Los Angeles or Detroit will make the United States bid for the 1968 Games.

Originally, Detroit was selected by the Committee as the city that would try to bring the 68 Games to the United States. But Los Angeles interests objected that all arguments had not been properly weighed and bidding was reopened.

"We don't think Detroit is in a position to handle the Games," said Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles. "We know we can make a lot of money for amateur sports in the United States if we get the Games."

"We think we will be reaffirmed as the United States city to bid for the games," said Fred Matthei, chief of the Detroit Olympic Committee. "We had a one-hour presentation and we will be represented by Michigan Gov. George Romney and Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh of Detroit."

Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Philadelphia also will make presentations. Once the United States Olympic Committee decides on a city to make a bid for the '68 Games, all U.S. cities must back it. Other foreign cities bidding for the Games are Lausanne, Switzerland; Mexico City, Vienna, Buenos Aires and Lyons, France.

"I think that if Los Angeles is named as the United States city, we would have a good chance of getting the Games," said Frank Garland, U.S. member of the 34-man International Olympic Committee. The IOC meets in Kenya later this year to award the '68 games. The Olympics actually are

Woods Worker, John Petoskey, 79, Taken By Death

John Petoskey, 79, died suddenly Sunday at 5:35 p.m. at the Peterson Hotel, 1204 Ludington St., where he lived.

He was born in Poland May 31, 1883 and came to the United States in 1911, spending the greater part of the time since that in the Upper Peninsula. He had lived in Escanaba 15 years. He was a woods worker during his active years.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home from 6 to 8 this evening. Services will be held at the funeral home chapel at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Father Jordan Telles, O.F.M., will officiate. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Powers-Spalding P.T.A. Meeting

Mrs. Florence Dault, kindergarten teacher, in the Powers-Spalding School, presented her children in a demonstration in the teaching of phonics and preparatory skills for reading at the Powers-Spalding P.T.A. meeting. The slate for candidates was presented, and ballots were circulated. The election will take place at the April meeting. Mrs. Walter Peterson is chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Cossacks fought on both sides in the 1917 Russian Revolution. Thus the Communists distrusted them and finally suppressed them.

Young Hiker Dies In M-28 Accident

NEWBERRY — Michael Lee Quinn, 16, of Newberry, was fatally injured by a car on M 28, 10 miles west of Newberry, as he and a group of 11 girls were nearing the end of a 50-mile hike Sunday afternoon.

The driver of the car, Sault Ste. Marie policeman Alfred Norton, 42, who was driving from Marquette to the Sault with his family, was not held.

State Police said that Quinn, a seminarian of Mt. Calvary Seminary, St. Nazianz, Wis., and the girls had hiked from Newberry to Curtis, a resort community west of here. They were returning to Newberry when the accident occurred at 1:50 p. m.

The group of hikers was on the side of the pavement as Norton

Southern Pacific Signs Agreement With Rail Clerks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, AFL-CIO, and the Southern Pacific Railway signed two agreements Saturday in the presence of Federal Mediator Francis O'Neill.

The first of the two agreements settled the question of job losses caused by automation and new procedures. Southern Pacific agreed to reduce the total number of clerks jobs only through natural attrition. That is, 11,000 clerks jobs will be whittled down only as workers quit, get promoted, retire, die or are fired for cause.

The second agreement committed five "insoluble" union-management problems to a three-man arbitration board.

Forest Laboratory In Houghton Urged By Rep. Bennett

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was urged today by Rep. John Bennett, R-Mich., to appropriate $400,000 to build a forest engineering laboratory at Houghton, Mich. Bennett said the Michigan College of Science and Technology has offered a site on its campus for the laboratory, which would be built by the U.S. Forest Service.

In testimony for a Senate appropriations subcommittee, Bennett said one of the Houghton's major tasks would be the design of engineering systems needed for the economical harvesting and transport of forest products.

It also would conduct research into low-cost reforestation methods and new uses for forest materials, he said.

Illness Is Fatal To Mrs. Stettner

MANISTIQUE — Mrs. F. J. Stettner, 78, of Manistique, died Sunday at St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, where she had been a patient ten days.

The former Emily Costello, she was born in Manistique Nov. 11, 1884, and was a graduate of Manistique High School. She was employed in the office of the White Marble Lime Co., Manistique, and later worked in Minneapolis where her marriage took place Oct. 25, 1920.

She lived in Springfield and Monticello, Ill., before returning to Manistique after the death of her husband in 1950. She had made her home here with a sister, Mrs. Peter Stanness. She survives with three nieces and one nephew.

Friends may call at Kefauver-Jackson Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Tuesday and the liturgical prayers will be said at 8:45 p.m. Services will be held at St. Francis de Sales Church Wednesday at 10 a.m. with burial in Lakeside Cemetery.

Briefly Told

The Bay de Noc Conservation League will meet at 7:30 tonight in its clubhouse in Gladstone.

North Star Lodge will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the North Star Hall.

Escanaba police were called to aid an Escanaba woman, Violet North of 201 N. 11th St., who fell on the ice about midnight at the rear of 1322 Ludington St., suffered an injured right leg and a cut on the head and was taken to St. Francis Hospital.

Mike O'Connell, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O'Connell of 211 S. 17th St., is to receive anti-rabies treatment because a cat that bit him on the left wrist March 11 cannot be found to determine whether the animal may have been rabid. Police said the boy has been unable to identify the cat among a number of strays in the area.

Traffic court summons have been issued by Escanaba police to Edward A. Fish, 322 N. 16th St., leaving the keys in his car, leaving the motor running and the car unattended, and double parking; Lee Nord, 1509 Ludington, speeding and no operator's license on person; Patrick J. St. John, 1215 Ludington St., improper starting; Steven C. Jensen, Bark River Rte. 1, excessive motor noise; James E. Grenier, Wells, failing to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Michigan State Police issued summons to the following motorists: H. Dan Joslin, But, Mich., daytime speeding; Walter Leask, of Gladstone, expired operator's license; Roger Miller, Tulifer, Wis., day time speeding; Mary DePottet, expired operator's license; Denile Lee Hamlin and Jerry Nelson Fraley of Eckerman for littering the highway.

A meeting of the Village Council was conducted Thursday evening. The usual order of business was taken up. A petition was presented by Mrs. Minnie Mattson containing signatures of over three hundred citizens of the village of Newberry, protesting the sale of the Harrie St. Park for other than a hospital site or a park. The petition was accepted.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Kauramaki, of 406 E. Harrie St., were guests of honor at a dinner Thursday at the Lower Falls room in recognition of Mr. Kauramaki's 20th anniversary as a council member. He resigned from the council on Feb. 11, and will be a candidate for the office of Supervisor of McMillan Township at the April 1 election.

The Presbytery of Mackinac of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. will meet today and Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church of Newberry. The women of the First Presbyterian Church will serve their meals while they are here and lodging has been provided for Presbytery members in local homes and the Falls Hotel.

Mrs. Lillian Embs

Mrs. Embs Dies At Rochester

Mrs. Lillian Embs, 75, senior member of a widely known Escanaba family, died Saturday at 4:15 p.m. at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minn., where she had been a patient one day.

She was born in Escanaba Feb. 11, 1888, and was a life-long resident of the community.

Active in church and organizational work, she was a member of First Presbyterian Church, R. C. Hatheway Chapter 49. Order of the Eastern Star, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, and Equitable Reserve Association of which she served as secretary many years.

She leaves three sons, Harold, Sault Ste. Marie, Milton of Escanaba and Robert of Kalamazoo, one daughter, Mrs. Robert (Caroline) Holt, Escanaba, 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren, one brother, Herman Froehlich, Caspian, and one sister, Mrs. Bertha LaBoy, Chicago. Her husband, Anton Embs, died in 1931.

Iron Mountain Given $168,500 Federal Grant

IRON MOUNTAIN—A federal grant of $168,500 approved last week will enable the City of Iron Mountain to complete two major improvement projects next summer.

City officials were notified that the Community Facilities Administration has approved two grants totaling $168,500 under the Public Works Acceleration Act. The grant is made on a 50-50 matching basis.

The projects are the extension of a storm sewer in the north side of the city and improvements at the city filtration plant.

City Engineer David Fornetti said the total cost of the two projects will be $336,800.

Fornetti said both projects will be started in June and completed this summer. The work will be done on a contract basis.

Both projects will be completed at no additional costs to the taxpayers. The city's share of the storm sewer will be financed by an excess of bonds from the sewage disposal plant.

The filtration plant project will be financed by a reserve water department fund especially set up for that purpose.

Keeping Dairy Industry

A few years ago the Upper Peninsula had 950 dairy farms producing milk for bottling. Today it has 624.

Whether it is to have any at all a few years from now is probably now being decided in the contest between Upper Peninsula dairies and big Wisconsin dairies selling in the Upper Peninsula market.

The public holds the trump cards in this game. The public buys the milk. If it chooses to pinch a few pennies for a momentary advantage it will probably kill an Upper Peninsula dairy industry which now contributes more than $12 million a year to the stores, churches, garages and tax collections of the Peninsula.

Jack Little of Chatham, Upper Peninsula Extension dairyman, says that at the present drop price of 28 cents a half gallon to stores, "farmers are not going to survive—even in the Milwaukee area." After the little dairymen have been wiped out by the effort to compete with such low prices the big companies will add a profit margin and the public will pay what milk costs.

But after this cycle has run its course Upper Peninsula dairy farms, and dairy industry plants may well have been killed off, and with them the $12 million income they provide for the U.P.

Little has asked the legislators of the Upper Peninsula to support House Bill 602 in the Michigan Legislature to save the Upper Peninsula's dairy industry.

Two years ago Governor Swainson vetoed a similar bill passed by the Legislature which contained a requirement for an 8 per cent profit margin on dairy products. There is no such profit clause in this new bill. It would merely prohibit retail sale of selected dairy products at less than "cost to the retailer," which is defined as invoice plus business expenses.

The public should understand that this bill, rather than raise the ultimate cost of milk, will permit competition to survive and assure that milk will be priced near its production and marketing cost.

"The bill," explained Little "is designed to prohibit large volume dispensers of dairy products from underselling our small dairy plants. These practices are rather widespread in Escanaba, Ironwood, Iron River and other border cities and have occurred periodically in the Soo, Marquette and Houghton areas.

"At present Michigan does not have regulatory measures that control these unfair marketing practices. Thus, after a small plant is forced to retire from competition, it leaves the market open for Wisconsin milk. This eliminates our local dairy plant and loses the bottled milk market for our dairy farmers.

"Our dairy people have not asked for favor in marketing their products. They only desire a market where fair trade practices exist. I believe that this kind of legislation is essential to the continued operation of the dairy industry of the Upper Peninsula. My purpose in writing is to inform you of the precarious position that the large out-of-state dairies have created in an effort to gain control of our market."

There it is from the man who knows most about U.P. dairying. This important industry is in its death throes unless there is helpful legislation.

Delta County Dairyman Clayton Ford told the Agriculture Committee of House in public hearing on the bill that it is pointless for government to concern itself with area development and spend tax money in such efforts if it neglects one of the Upper Peninsula's major industries in a time of crisis.

Jim Gooch Honored

Michigan State University has named Jim Gooch, its Extension information specialist in the Upper Peninsula, coordinator of its program of continuing education in the Upper Peninsula.

He'll do it well. Gooch, an information specialist, has been a chief interpreter of the Extension program in the Peninsula in the past half decade. This was a new job and there may have been some criticism of its creators but there certainly cannot have been any fair criticism of the work that Gooch has done in it.

"Information specialist" could be interpreted as educationless that means "public relations man." Gooch is engaged to tell the public what's going on in Extension—the U.P. programs of the Cooperative Extension Service and of Michigan State University. Ideally, perhaps, this work should be done by press, radio and TV reporters, but practically it cannot be done adequately that way.

The program is too big and complex to be brought to the mass media of communications without an intermediate link that can interpret it in lay language. Many of its activities are in rural situations where there's no regular press staffing and the radio and TV tend to rely upon the press for the gathering of such news.

Gooch is an unusually able newsman and he knows agriculture as a professional. The aid of such a person makes the U.P. mass media coverage of Extension and MSU activities much more comprehensive than it could be without his aid. And on a volunteer basis he has served the area most helpfully as a publicist in the field of Parent Teacher and other civic activities.

What emerges from Gooch's work is the revelation that he, essentially a reporter, has been one of the most effective teachers of the public in the Upper Peninsula. This process is very important to our enlightenment and Jim Gooch's great talents make it highly effective.

Mark Helped Us

Mark Olson is leaving Harnischfeger Corp. to join Caterpillar Tractor Co. at Peoria. The Escanaba Area will wish him well in his new work and be thankful for all the devoted service that he has given to this community. An honor student and outstanding athlete at Michigan Tech, he has been a mainspring of hockey in Escanaba, devoting himself unsparringly to the development of the sport. He has such devotion to hockey that he has often driven most of the night to get home after officiating at a game so he could be on deck at P&H in the morning, bright-eyed and bubbling.

"That Goes For Me, Too!"

Washington Comment Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

WASHINGTON — (N E A) — Oklahoma football coach and society song writer Gladys Shelley has come to the aid of Washington's 50-mile hikers with a new number called "The Kennedy Walk." Soon to be released on record, some of the verses go like this:

I fell in love with you
When I saw the hole in your shoe
You got, doing The Kennedy Walk.
Your vigh's makin' history
But baby don't walk out on me,
Doing the J. F. Kennedy Walk.

Some of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater's Missouri partisans turned their enthusiasm from the verbal to the visual at a Republican state gathering. They got aside a "Goldwater Room" and paped it with various post-like blowups. One showed a Kennedy-style PT boat, sliced in two, recalling the President's near-disastrous encounter with a Japanese destroyer in World War II. This cartoon bore the legend: "Goldwater Can Sink Him Again in '64."

Most intriguing exhibit featured some bottles with the label "Old Arizona Goldwater Perfume."

A newsmag suggested this mysterious concoction should be subtitled: "Provocative, but conservative."

Danish Comedian Victor Borge, at a one-night performance in Washington's Constitution Hall, announced that "the next portion of the program will be taped for the fighting men overseas... De Gaulle and Macmillan."

Sen. Kenneth Keating of New York got a letter from a nine-year-old boy in Utica asking him to "Please ignore my letter about West Point."

"I just heard on the radio that our soldiers are being trained for 'gorilla' fighting. I saw King Kong at the movies last year and I don't think I'd be interested in fighting those things. Try to get me in the Naval Academy instead."

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S. D., gives this definition of a smorgasbord government in Washington: "A give-away technique by which a little of something is given to everybody, but nothing of substance is received by anyone."

Sen. Harrison Williams D-N. J., notes that on the opening day of a Senate Banking and Currency subcommittee investigation of urban mass transport, a Washington newspaper listed the hearing as one on: "Cuban Mass Transportation."

Coming to the rescue, Williams said: "I hasten to assure the members of the committee that while this bill has been called many things, it isn't designed to help Cuba with its mass transportation problems."

A roll of prestige-type carpeting always laid in the rooms of influential officials in the Pentagon has been lying for some days in the corridor outside the new offices of the Defense Intelligence Agency.

As one high-placed Pentagon wag remarked: "They've decided that someone in DIA should get the carpet, but they haven't made up their mind who it should be."

"Are the British people Europeans?" NATO Secretary General Dirk U. Stikker of The Netherlands was asked during his Washington visit.

"Having lived in England for six years," the former Dutch ambassador and foreign minister replied in perfect English, "I can say most definitely they are."

Charles B. "Bud" Wilkinson,

Oklahoma football coach and society song writer Gladys Shelley has come to the aid of Washington's 50-mile hikers with a new number called "The Kennedy Walk." Soon to be released on record, some of the verses go like this:

"I'd say that he's a bit more conscious of the problem now than he was before," Bud replied, "but since he can't enjoy a long walk today, he's not in condition to participate in sports."

Later in the session at which it was announced the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Standard Packaging Corp. would back a new, nationwide physical fitness leadership awards program, Wilkinson observed: "We're emphasizing physical fitness for youth in this program, and that rules out Pierre."

A fooland his money are soon parted by people who fool him.

Cakes like mother used to bake exist mainly in the imagination.

We like the palms that are stuck in the corners of ritzy restaurants better than the ones that are stuck out in front of us.

You can do most anything with electricity except pay the bills for it.

Whether they started out to be left-handed and were trained out of it is not known, because other mixed dominances have been observed—better vision in the left eye but better hearing in the right ear.

Dominance of one hand or the other appears to be desirable, because careful observation of a large number of children has indicated that those who show no preference for one hand have generally poor muscular co-ordination. If the young adult wants to practice ambidexterity he may find it useful to do so, but equal skill with both hands in all fields is rarely, if ever, achieved.

As things now stand, the best policy would seem to be to try very gently to get a child to use his right hand, but not to make a major issue of it.

If he persists in being left-handed, be thankful that he will find many others like himself. His left-handedness will not be as great a handicap for him as it was a couple of generations ago.

Q—Our 16-month-old daughter can pull herself up and walk around a chair or table, but will not walk by herself. She is normal in every other way. What can we do to help her?

A—There is such a wide variation in the age at which a normal baby will walk alone that the wisest rule is this:

The age at which a baby should begin to walk is when he or she is ready.

The fact that your daughter can propel herself around a chair indicates normal development. Those children who start walking at 11 months won't walk any better at age 3 than your daughter will.

WHEN THE FIREMAN ISN'T THERE

I'm a railroad brakeman. Guess I shouldn't care if that day comes when the fireman isn't there. When I'm out there switching it gives me an awful fright to think of what could happen on any given night. The yard is dark and full of freight; gather the out-bound, it just can't wait. A curve to the left; engineer's out of sight; now what can I do with a two buck light? There's trouble ahead. No time to spare! I can't do a thing. The fireman isn't there.

I know the text of this new railroad policy. Get rid of the fireman. The brakeman comes next. When danger looms up give a big bug-eyed stare. You can't do a thing, if the fireman's not there.

Print this so maybe the public will know that we are not featherbedders. The railroad man of today works 7 days a week, 16 hours a day, no extra pay for night work or 200 car trains. We pull 5 times the trains we did 15 years ago. So who's featherbedding? Railroad management! You can see yourself what a kind of service they give the public with the passenger's trains.

Picture, if you can, sightseeing boats running to and from Alcatraz Island every hour on the hour.

Imagine tourists crawling all over "The Rock," oohing and ah-ing at such information as, "And here, ladies and gentlemen, is where Al Capone slept in isolation."

The glowering rock in San Francisco bay has a history, mostly grim, that dates back to 1854. For the past 29 years it has been the nation's toughest prison, the tantalizing lockup for gangland's most hardened criminals, but by July 1 it will be closed and abandoned.

Mayor Has Ideas

What to do with it is a topic of great speculation. If something isn't done soon, the 20-acre island could become a deserted crag, crowned by decayed buildings and an automatic light house. The pelicans for which it was named could take over again.

Leaving Alcatraz for the birds, however, has no place in the imagination of Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco. He has asked California's congressional delegation to introduce a bill for a special study commission on Alcatraz' future.

It is his idea to send tourists by the boatload from Fisherman's Wharf, just a mile and a quarter away.

"I believe hundreds of thousands of people would pay a dollar apiece to see the prison as it was, to rub elbows with the ghosts of Capone, Machine Gun Kelly and all the others," the mayor said.

"Then, after interest died down, I would want to see something truly magnificent put there. A huge statue like New York's Statue of Liberty big enough so you could climb right into the fingers."

Escapes Bring Decision

The Justice Department decision to abandon Alcatraz Prison followed two sensational breaks last year, although the connection is not acknowledged.

James V. Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, told Congress that Alcatraz would have to be rebuilt or replaced. An estimate that renovation would cost about $5 million brought the announcement that Alcatraz would be "phased out" in 1963.

A break by three daring bank robbers brought matters to a head.

Frank Morris and brothers John and Clarence Anglin made for shore the night of June 11-12, 1962, equipped with prison-made raft, paddles and waterwings. It de-

Revival Of Tolls For Blue Water Bridge Proposed

PORT HURON (AP)—Three Republican legislators say they will ask Gov. Romney for a conference on the possibility of restoring tolls on the International Blue Water Bridge.

State Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said Saturday he and Reps. Raymond C. Wurzel and Donald M. Wismer, both of St. Clair County, hope to have the meeting later this month.

Tolls were removed from the Blue Water Bridge March 1, 1962, by former Gov. John B. Swainson. Swainson removed the tolls under provisions of a federal requirement that called for the bridge to be toll free after its bonded indebtedness was paid.

The Blue Water Bridge Commission currently operates the international span linking Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., with funds previously collected by tolls.

After July 1 of this year, funds for maintaining the bridge will come from the State Highway Department's operating funds.

Beadle said his group believes toll funds should be used for maintenance work.

Argus Property Acquired By U.M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan says it has acquired by purchase and donation the former Argus Camera Co. property in Ann Arbor.

Sylvania Electric Products Inc., which acquired Argus in 1957 has not used the facilities directly since last April.

Sylvania donated to the University a two-thirds acre parking lot.

The university purchased for $265,000 three buildings, a residence and a smaller parking lot. University spokesmen said Saturday the purchase would permit Michigan to plan for removal from the central campus area of many activities not directly related to the teaching of students.

P., "although recently and niggardly," the people no longer wish to secede.

Ann Landers Shoes Bug Abe

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a shoe salesman and I'm having trouble with my women customers. This is not a business problem but a human relations problem.

Wouldn't you think a person would be more interested in wearing a shoe that fits properly than anything else? Well, this isn't the way an awful lot of women figure it. I see customers all day long who would rather jam their size 8 B's into a 7 A (and suffer) than buy the right size.

Some women get insulted if you tell them their feet have gotten bigger with age. They suddenly find all sorts of things wrong with the shoe, especially if a friend happens to be along. I've lost many sales because I tried to be honest.

I'd like your advice. Should I fit these women properly and tell them the truth? Or shall I sell them size instead of fit and let them limp out?—HONEST ABE

Dear Abe: Psychology has always been an important part of selling.

The ladies garment industry wised up a long time ago. The better dresses are "cut more generously." Translated into English this means if milady buys the dress off the rack she'd better reach for the 16. If she buys a better dress she can easily get in to a size 14. This is great for the customer's morale and it's nice for the retailer, too.

If the shoe manufacturers would take a cue from the manufacturers of the better dresses there would be less demand for bunions and corn plasters—and your job would be a lot easier, Abe.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 37, single, male and in good health. My problem is a mother who will not let me be on my own.

Dad died when I was 19. Mother and I remained in the family home. Four years ago my sister was divorced and mother and I moved into her house because her children were in college. This summer her college children will be home for good.

I decided now is the time for me to get my own apartment. Mother says, "If you leave me—this is it." She really means that if I leave her I am out of her will.

She claims any bachelor who would prefer an apartment alone to sharing quarters with his widowed mother is immoral and wants to lead a wild life. I am not immoral nor do I want to lead a wild life. I just want to be on my own. Your opinion is requested.—TENNESSEE TROUBLES

Dear Tennessee: A man who has let his mama lead him around by the nose for 37 years may be such an emotional cripple that he is unable to function as an independent adult.

Now is the time to find out if you can make it. If you allow mom's threat to influence you, you're trading your chance for an independent life for a sack of shells.

The light is green. And the word is GO.

Dear Ann Landers: When are girls going to get smart and demand the same standard of virtue that the boys demand of them? The guy who wants to play around with tramps while he's dating and then expects a good girl when he's "ready for something important like marriage" ought to be sent to the bargain basement right along with the girls he helped to put there. I've been talking this way for a long time, Ann. When I was in high school girls told me I'd never find a boy with standards that high. But I found him, and I married him, and I'll wager he is more than those creeps who had so much "proving" to do before marriage.

I'm sure I didn't get the only good guy in the world. There must be others left. Happy hunting, Girls.—MRS. LUCKY

Dear Lucky: Not all boys demand white-flower girls for marriage, but I agree that those who do should have an unsullied record themselves.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Dinner Men Like: Broiled chops with savory buttered rice, spiced fruit and pickled watermelon rind, and fresh green broccoli.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A reader writes that she is in the department of utter confusion about the varieties of white rice now on the market. What to use in recipes?

Nowadays when recipes for American dishes specify rice (raw or cooked) it is safe to use the long-grain variety of white rice. If the recipe does not give specific directions for cooking, cook the rice by one of the simple methods listed on the package. Long-grain rice is the type that "cooks dry" and should result in tender but not mushy grains.

Regular white rice also includes the short and medium-grain varieties that tend to stick. Some cooks are able to manage this rice so that the grains are tender but separate, but this seems to be an art learned only at Mother's knee! These short and medium-grain varieties, just because they are inclined to be sticky, are often fine to use in pancakes, fritters, hot breads, and stuffings for meat, poultry, fish and vegetables.

About a dozen years ago rice processed a new way came on the market. This type is sometimes referred to as converted rice, and sometimes as parboiled. The latter nomenclature gives a clue to the way the rice is processed: it's parboiled before it is milled. This processing helps to keep the grains firm and separate during cooking; it also helps them to retain their vitamins and minerals. This rice, when package directions are followed, is probably the easiest of all varieties to cook successfully. Then there's pre-cooked rice. It's completely cooked and needs only boiling water treatment (according to package directions) in the home kitchen. Although in our opinion pre-cooked rice can know the virtue of enlivening plain cooked rice to accompany meat, poultry, fish or eggs. Is the rice, for example, to accompany lamb or pork chops? Then you'll find dark or white raisins or currants (rinsed in hot water and drained), pine nuts or slivered almonds, or curry powder all excellent additions; you can add one or two of these or all three. Cooked green peas mixed with rice is a fine combination with roast meat or poultry, baked or broiled fish, or creamed eggs. Minced parsley or chives mixed with rice make another good flavor team. Butter-cooked mushrooms (fresh or canned) that have been chopped or sliced, and crisply cooked bacon are always popular with rice. It goes without saying that before these additions are made, the cooked rice usually benefits from the savory contribution of butter.

Plan Training Sessions For Service Teams

As one of the first steps toward launching the Program Change, scheduled to take place in Girl Scouting next fall, members of the Delta County Girl Scout Council's three Neighborhood service teams are to receive training this week, according to Mrs. Ray Richards, Council president.

Mrs. Muriel Bissell, special field advisor, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will conduct one session for North Delta Neighborhood and another for South and Central Delta Neighborhoods. The latter will meet at 1 p.m. Tuesday, March 19, in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Fellowship Room. Wednesday, March 20, North Delta will convene at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clarin Fredrickson.

1115 Michigan Ave., Gladstone. Sessions for Troop leaders will be scheduled and announced at a later date.

Program Change is based on results of a two-part study conducted for Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan. It dealt with the needs and interests of adolescent girls, both Girl Scout and non-Scout, in all parts of the United States and probed the effectiveness of the Girl Scout program through interviews with Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scouts and their leaders.

Four age groupings will be incorporated in the program, founded on the basic principles of Scouting and so activated that girls from 7 to 17 can continue to increase their skills and knowledge through each progressive stage.

This shipment of pine logs, probably the largest in size to ever pass through Escanaba, were handled at the Chicago North Western yards on Saturday. The logs were shipped by Kimberly-Clark from Martin's Landing, about 19 miles outside Ishpeming, to the firm's mill at Marquette. They were shipped on flat cars and gondolas. In all there were 10 cars carrying the logs. (Daily Press Photo)

April 1 Election Issue

Constitution To Reform Schooling

By League of Women Voters

The general planning and coordination of all public education in Michigan, long desired by persons interested in education, is provided under the proposed new constitution to be voted April 1 and specifically assigned to a larger elected state board of education.

While this planning includes institutions of higher education, the management of their internal affairs is stated to be the job of their boards of control, as it is under the old constitution. Local boards of education would continue to control local school districts.

The state board of education under the present constitution has only four members, including the state superintendent of public instruction, and a great many functions, including acting as the board of control for four state-supported universities, Eastern, Western, Northern, and Central.

The state board of education under the new constitution has eight members in addition to the state superintendent of public instruction. The superintendent presides but does not have a vote. The board will no longer be responsible for the universities listed above, each of which will have its own board. The governor will serve as a non-voting member on the board of education in order to provide greater coordination with the executive branch. These changes should make it easier for the state board to perform the planning function.

"Leadership and general supervision over all public education, including adult education and educational programs in state institutions, except institutions of higher education" is also assigned to the state board. The board shall also advise the legislature concerning financial needs of all public education.

In order to provide for direct responsibility to the voters, state board members under the new document will be nominated by conventions of the political parties and elected at large for overlapping terms, as at present. The length of the terms is increased from six to eight years. Vacancies for unexpired terms to be filled by the governor.

Following the pattern found in local school districts, the state superintendent of public instruction will be appointed by the state board for a term which it shall set. This change has been recommended by the Michigan Education Association, the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, and others. It removes the superintendent from partisan politics; it allows him to spend full-time on his job, rather than running for office every other year; and it enables the board to pick the best-qualified person for the job.

The superintendent will be the principal executive officer of the state department of education.

Three other changes of a general nature deserve mention. The legislature is required to "maintain and support" the school system, rather than merely "continue" it, as at present. Public "elementary and secondary schools as defined by law" are required, as contrasted with the mention of only "primary" schools found in the present document. The phrase would enable a broader interpretation than is in present use, if public demand favors it. For example, a thirteenth and fourteenth year could be included. An addition requires that education be provided "without discrimination as to religion, creed, race, color or national origin."

The education article retains as a preamble the historic words of the Ordinance of 1787: "Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged."

The archaic language found in the present constitution regarding persons with serious handicaps has been modernized and the restrictive provisions concerning the kind of help given have been broadened to reflect modern social thinking. "Programs and services" as well as "institutions" are to be "fostered and supported."

The new constitution also calls for the legislature to establish and support public libraries available to all residents of the state. The old document requires establishment only, but specifies a library in every township and city, something quite impractical which has never been done. Penal fines for violations of state laws will continue to be earmarked for library support. County law libraries are guaranteed the continuation of their share of penal fines. This section would enable a flexible statewide library system to be set up without disturbing existing libraries. Local library boards would retain their power to regulate their own libraries.

Iron County Drops Plea For New Courthouse

HURLEY, Wis. — The Iron county board of supervisors voted unanimously last Friday to withdraw the county's application for federal public works funds for the proposed construction of a $480,000 courthouse.

Louis Leoni, board chairman, had advised the supervisors to decide immediately whether they wanted to go ahead with the project because he had been asked to go to Washington, D.C., to push the county's application.

He said the application, which the board submitted about two months ago after much debate, was being processed and the engineering firm retained by the county to draw preliminary plans had asked that he make the trip.

Leoni said that in view of economic problems in the county: "We need a new courthouse like I need two heads."

He suggested that the $115,000 accumulated in a special fund for construction of a courthouse over the last 20 years be put in the general fund.

Bidault Guarded At Special Mass In German Church

STEINEBACH, Germany (AP) — Under heavy police guard, Georges Bidault attended a special Mass in the Roman Catholic church here today.

The special Mass was arranged after the former French premier heeded a request by two priests not to attend the regular Sunday Mass. The priests said they feared Bidault would stir up too much excitement.

The Bavarian Interior Ministry acknowledged receipt of a letter from the anti-Gaullist leader who seeks political asylum in West Germany. Informants said he repeated his intention of staying in Steinebach, despite a suggestion that he move for security reasons.

February Trade Better Than '62

February business in the Upper Peninsula, as indicated by bank debits, was 5 per cent better than in the same month a year ago, reports the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Escanaba reported a total volume of $13.7 million, which was 2 per cent above February, 1962. It was in second place among U.P. cities, with Marquette first with $16.2 million and a gain of 13 per cent.

In third place was Sault Ste. Marie with $11.3 million and a gain of 3 per cent. Next in order were Iron Mountain, $10.8 million, up 11 per cent; Menominee, 6.7 million, Ishpeming $6.5 million, up 22 per cent; and Houghton, $6.5 million, up 26 per cent.

Manistique had $3.6 million, a gain of 3 per cent and Hermansville $660,000, up one per cent. Munising reported $1.9 million, a loss of one per cent.

Pulpwood Suits Won't Up Prices, States Magazine

The federal government's anti-trust suits against Lake States paper industries has drawn "blood" but is unlikely to make any changes in the methods of purchasing pulpwood in Wisconsin, Pulp & Paper Magazine says in the lead article of its February issue.

The trade journal of the paper industry has its executive offices in New York City and is published in Bristol, Conn.

An article by Albert W. Wilson, editor of Pulp & Paper, states "While four companies — St. Regis (Rhinelander), Charmin Paper Products, Consolidated, Paper and Green Bay Paper & Pulp — decided to fight the charges of conspiring to hold down pulpwood prices, 5 others decided to offer pleas of nolo contendere, apparently in order to avoid lengthy and expensive trials. These were American Can (Marathon), Moose Paper Mills, Nekoosa-Edwards, Wausau Paper Mills and Kansas City Star (Park Falls)."

"While they still protest their innocence of criminal or civil charges, by signing the consent order they enabled a Madison, Wis., federal judge to declare them 'guilty' and impose fines of $50,000 each.

Market Won't Change

"Some of these same companies and in addition, Kimberly-Clark, Scott Paper (Marinette and Oconto Falls), Mead Corp. (Escanaba) and Badger Paper Mills (Peshtigo) face similar charges in Milwaukee and a half dozen companies are accused of pulpwood pricing conspiracy in Grand Rapids, Mich.

"Justice Department actions brought a great deal of unfavorable publicity to the mills, even before they were served notice, and therefore they were unable to strike back. Despite the government actions, there is no likelihood that there will be any change in the prices of pulpwood in the Lake States.

"There is far too much wood available and with the depressed conditions in the pulpwood markets, the mills are getting more wood offered to them than they want to buy. The law of supply and demand will certainly keep down the prices, the government contention that the alleged conspiracy obstructing the operation of that law notwithstanding.

"The amazing statement of the Milwaukee grand jury foreman when the indictments were brought, to the effect that prices were held at a 'depressed' level in order 'to create an oversupply of pulpwood,' indicates an appalling ignorance of conditions on both the pulpwood and woodpulp markets.

Wood Costs High

"Both Wisconsin and Michigan mills point out that their wood costs already are $25 a ton (pulp) more than those in other regions of the United States — the South and the West — and if they want to remain competitive they cannot raise the pulpwood prices despite the Justice Department action.

"With depressed pulp prices a point could be reached where it would be more economical for Wisconsin and Michigan mills to buy pulp or chips. In fact, there already is a strong trend toward buying of more chips from sawmills, instead of pulpwood.

"It is ironical that the forest development and conservation methods of the Wisconsin and Michigan paper companies apparently made them vulnerable to the attack by Attorney General Kennedy's Justice Department. In the first place these mills developed the technical methods of production that enabled them to use aspen, or poplar, which grows in abundance close to the mills, instead of the more costly and remote spruce.

"Secondly, their vast tree planting programs, which have literally brought about a new forest cover to those states, and their instruction of pulpwood farmers in more efficient growing and harvesting methods seem to have contributed to their alleged 'conspiracy' — at least these efforts kept their wood costs down.

Pyrrhic Victory

"Wisconsin's Democratic senator, who not long ago wanted to start a newsprint mill in Wisconsin when newsprint was in over-supply, made charges that the paper mills were not paying enough for pulpwood.

"The mills have been bitter about the publicity tactics of the Justice Department. On the other hand the pressure was on the mills not to try to defend themselves in the newspapers before their trials. This could get them into deeper trouble.

"President David Smith of Wausau Paper Mills said 'Our decision to settle was made only because we felt we could not afford the very expensive trial of the case. We are a small company and must devote our time to remaining competitive with the mills in the South and West which enjoy considerable advantages.'

"Even if a federal jury ultimately finds them not guilty of fixing pulpwood prices their costs could amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Butch Wedin Tops Jumpers

WASHBURN, Wis. (AP)—Robert (Butch) Wedin won the Olympic invitational ski jumping tournament Sunday with leaps of 183 and 186 feet.

The 22-year-old former national junior champion from Iron Mountain, Mich., held the lead after Saturday's competition on the Mount Valhalla hill and with Sunday's efforts piled up 297.5 points in the Central U.S. Ski Association sponsored meet before 2,000 spectators.

Powers-Spalding

POWERS-SPALDING — Spalding Township Volunteer Fire Department officers elected at a recent meeting are: Karl Behrend, president; Jos Nowack, secretary; and Ronald Gatien, treasurer. Frank Nowack and Harold Hanson were retained as Fire Chief and Assistant Fire Chief. An aggressive training program has been planned for the coming meetings. The Department has a membership of 25 men who serve entirely on a volunteer basis.

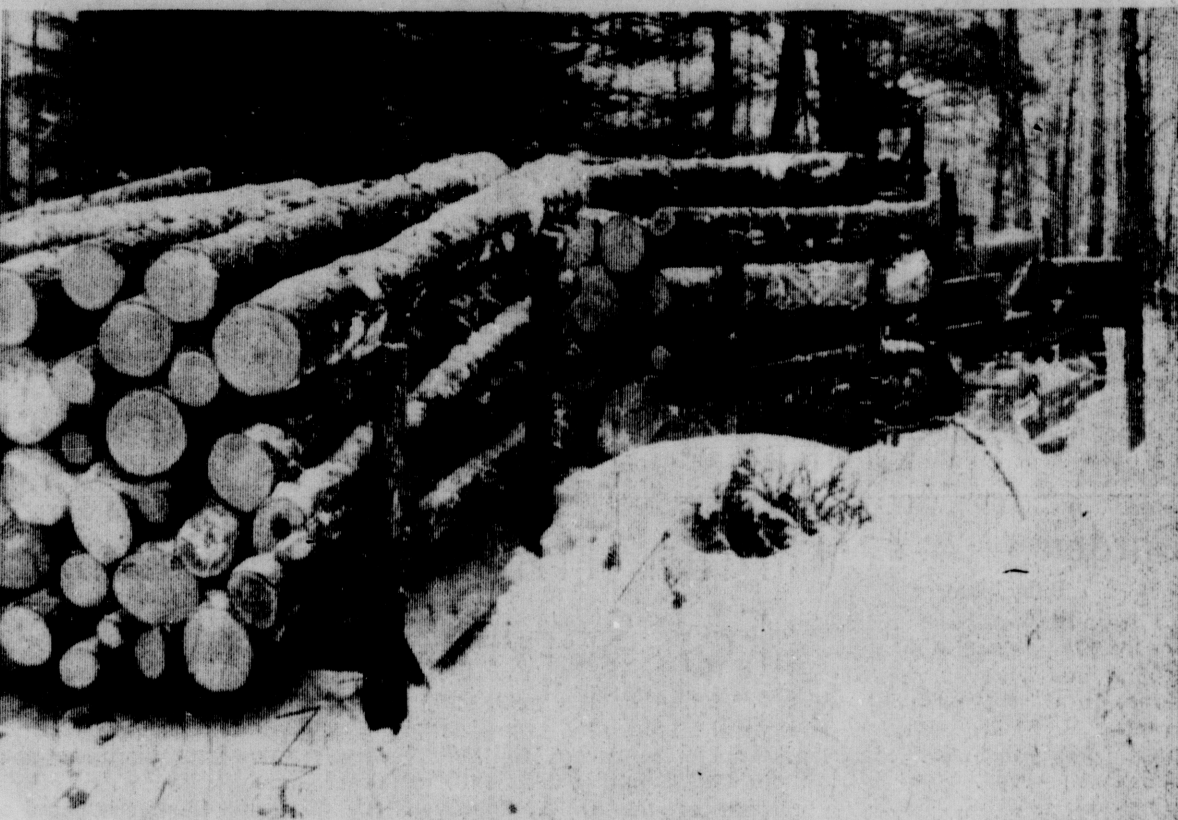

POWERS-SPALDING—Candy-stripers, under the guidance of Mrs. Wilfred Fleetwood, superintendent of nurses at Pincroast, went on an orientation tour of the Medicare Facility. Before the girls can begin any floor work in the wards this orientation program is essential, along with lectures on various techniques in dealing with patients and eventually the feeding of patients. The sales of tickets on the afghan is progressing nicely, and the girls hope to realize an adequate sum to purchase their uniforms.

Pulpwood Harvest Moves To Market

This is a typical Upper Peninsula pulpwood cutting in late winter. It is that of Bernard Gustafson of Carney on woodland of the Wisconsin Public Service Co. in Menominee County. The timber is cut in strips and the pulpwood sticks stacked for easy pickup by the loader in the middle of the strip.

The caterpillar tractor of the logger has a loader mounted on its rear, visible at the top of the picture, and it pulls two drays loaded with balsam fir pulpwood in 8 foot lengths to the landing where the wood will be slung up onto a truck for transportation to the paper mill. The drays are metal to replace the traditional old wood drays of horse age logging, whose bunks caught on stumps and other obstacles. This is the equipment of "hot" logging, so called because the same day the tree is cut it is piled in a paper mill pulp yard ready for the debarker and chipper. Rep. Byrnes Maps GOP Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Republican has laid down a blueprint for cuts in the Kennedy administration's record budget, beginning with a $3-billion slash in education and other nondefense spending proposals.

"And I don't think that defense is immune, nor is space," Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin ranking Republican on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, said Sunday as he called for holding government spending at current levels.

If it can be done, he said, he would support a tax cut and even go the administration one better—slashing revenues $7.5 billion in the first step by reducing corporate rates 52 to 47 per cent and cutting individual income tax rates across the board by $5 billion.

The Kennedy administration has proposed a $98.8-billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1. An $11.9-billion deficit is the official forecast and the President has placed in the congressional hopper a proposed net tax cut of $10.2 billion a year, to take effect in three stages.

The prospect of a large deficit while taxes are being cut has nettled economy-minded Congress members. Some have said they would support a tax reduction if spending is cut at the same time. Administration supporters have called for specifics—or as President Kennedy said recently "We have been generalized enough."

Appearing on a radio-television interview program, Byrnes, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, was asked what he would favor cutting now. First, he said, a proposed $1.5-billion increase in nondefense spending should be blocked. Foreign assistance and foreign aid have to be cut back, he said, and aid to colleges and universities should be confined to construction, cutting another $1.5 billion from the administration's education program.

In addition, Byrnes said the budget calls for 46,000 new federal employees, more than are required. But, at the same time, he said Republicans are not suggesting cuts in unemployment compensation and vocational training.

only two changes of government by force.

In 1917 President Alfredo Gonzalez Flores—a man obviously far ahead of the Alliance for Progress—became unpopular by instituting a graduated income tax and trying to raise real estate taxes. His minister of war, Federico Tinoco, took over the presidency, but popular pressure mounted against Tinoco and he was thrown out of the country in 1919. (Costa Rica later got income taxes).

Elections Fair And Free
The next violent change occurred in the elections of 1948 when Teodoro Picado was president. Otilio Ulate defeated Rafael Calderon Guardia but Picado's pro-Calderon regime tried to have the National Assembly annul the elections.

A widespread protest strike followed. A farmer turned politician, Jose (Pepe) Figueres, led a popular uprising which threw out Picado.

Figueres took over the government as head of a junta but turned the presidency over to Ulate in 1949.

Since then Costa Rican elections have been acclaimed for fairness and freedom. Opposition parties have won every election since 1948.

The current president is Francisco Orlich.

Michael Faketty Family Has Bout With Stove Fumes

The family of Michael Faketty, 520 Garden, escaped injury in a recent misadventure in which piping from an oil space heater blew apart. Four children, aged 2, 4, 5 and 6 who were sleeping downstairs were overcome by the fumes and were examined by a doctor. Mr. and Mrs. Faketty revived them by slapping and bringing them into fresh air. Three children upstairs were not affected.

The difficulty was discovered when the parents awoke and found the house full of soot and smoke at 12:10 a.m., Thursday. The fire had been lowered with recent warmer weather.

Bumper Tourist Year Expected

A "bumper" tourist year is anticipated, judging by interest at travel shows and advance reports of tourist operators in the area, Carl Graves of the Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce reports.

Graves notes the Upper Peninsula was active in the Detroit Travel show for the first time this year and that more literature was distributed there than at the Chicago show.

This is due to the highly receptive attitude of persons visiting the Detroit show, which actually had fewer total visitors, Graves states.

The 10-day show was marked with many requests for tourist and resort accommodations, and fewer camping inquiries than at Milwaukee and Chicago shows.

The Manistique C-C has distributed 25,700 pieces of literature at shows. As the 70,000 advertising directories ordered for inserts in the color folders are running short supply, the Cleveland and Indianapolis shows will have just the color folders on the area in use.

The C-C ordered 150,000 color folders, anticipating this would last three years. Indications are, however, that the supply will be exhausted in two years.

The transite slides in display at the Detroit show were well received and have been requested for use in the 1968 Olympiad if Detroit and Michigan are successful in their bid for it. The slides would be used in the Olympic auditorium.

Manistique gave out its most literature thus far at the Detroit show, and indications are that would be true for other Chambers in the U.P., Graves notes.

As coordinator for the U. P. Tourist Assn. booth at the show, Graves today expressed appreciation to all who aided, particularly those who spent the full 10 days working there.

These were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyd, Sally Sayer of Bay de Noc C-C and Mr. and Mrs. Art Larsen and Chief Welsh of L'Anse and Ernest Werth of Ironwood. Others siding with the show were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kremlick and Mr. and Mrs. Firman Bishop of Bay de Noc C-C, Mr. and Mrs. Art Hansen of Ironwood, Mrs. Helen Irwin, secretary of the International Bridge Authority at Sault Ste. Marie, Robert Sayles of Newberry, Ken Slater of Hulbert, Mr. Hudson of the Marquette C-C and Walter Lewke of the Escanaba C-C. Appreciation also was expressed for sturgeon pictures sent by John Mincoff.

The U. P. display was the largest at the show, Graves said.

"We've strained every nerve to put out maximum effort for increased tourist business, with participation in the travel shows and prompt service from the year-round office at Manistique as important legs of the program," Graves notes.

Without a good board and a good president (Fred H. Hahne) this would not have been possible," he added.

Proper Care And Storage Of Poisons Urged

"Keep household products out of sight and out of reach of children, particularly those under 5," urges Dr. R. A. Tearnan, of the Alger-Schoolcraft Department of Health.

National Poison prevention week will be observed March 18-25 and has been proclaimed for special stress by President John F. Kennedy and also locally by Mayor Harold Carlson. Each year about 500,000 persons are poisoned; 1661 die of it and 546 of this number dying are under five.

During one recent weekend alone, 95 poisonings from swallowing materials ordinarily found in many households were reported to the poison control center of New York City. The products ranged from floor wax, and detergents to bubble bath. All in all, 70 different household products caused these poisonings.

Some parents make the mistake of storing leftover turpentine, kerosene, insecticides and other poisonous liquids in soft drink bottles. When small children recognize these bottles they are obvious temptations.

Radio Riddles Describe Area

Increased activities of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce is bringing considerable publicity. Activities in which the Chamber is now engaged includes preparation of material on the start of tourism in the area, and on the tramp statue at Hovey's Beartrap Lodge at Indian Lake. The requests were made by two downtown writers. Persons with data on these are invited to contact the Chamber of Commerce.

The area also received publicity through WWL, large radio station in New Orleans which has a contest underway. Ten won in the program to guess the name of the hidden city, which is Manistique.

The contest continues through this month.

Two of the riddles which have been used are:

"This state has more water than many,
And more hilly country than most,
The governor that was Made a fortune off fuzz,
And is fond of the Memory of Yost."

For Manistique, on Lake Michigan, and in the heart of National Forest, the riddle was:

"A part of this name ogled Eve,
A part of what's left isn't spoke,
Some water is near,
And -- sometimes --- a deer,
And outside the city --- no smokin'!"

SAC Bombers Get Survival Needs

Many flights made by the aircrews of the 4042d Strategic Wing (SAC) from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base are made over desolate or dangerous terrain. Below the aircraft may be an ocean, an island of ice, or a steaming jungle. The Strategic Air Command crews and their aircraft must be equipped for any of these areas.

Outfitting the aircraft for such needs is the personal equipment section of the wing. This section, commonly referred to as "PE", is responsible for keeping the aircrews' equipment maintained and loaded aboard the aircraft.

Items such as life vests, rafts, weapons and exposure suits are only part of the equipment which would be used if the crew were forced to make a landing in a desolate or remote area. The planes assigned to the wing have never had an accident, but the Boy Scout motto—"Be Prepared"—is adhered to by the SAC crews.

Seasonal clothing, food rations, and different sources of shelter are provided. These necessities are determined by the scheduling section according to the area of the flight to be undertaken.

If an aircraft is scheduled to make a flight over the ocean, the scheduling section insures that the proper emergency survival equipment—rafts, life vests, drinking water, etc.—are aboard. Flights over tropical areas would require different types of equipment.

In addition to the survival equipment, the "PE" shop also provides utensils which are used by the crews during flight. Included are such things as ovens to prepare and keep meals warm, vacuum bottles, cups, or the food itself.

The 13 man section, headed by SMSgt. Onie Hale, is open around the clock. Aircraft from the wing fly at all hours, and the "PE" section must be ready at all times to load the aircraft with the necessary equipment.

Rations, water, sleeping bags, blankets, parachutes and life preservers are loaded. Each man on the crew also gets a survival kit, which includes nearly 40 separate items such as a first aid kit, a fishing kit, knife, rifle with ammunition, radio, razor, saw and raft.

Youths Fined $120 On Beer Charges

Fines and costs totaling $120 were paid by three Delta County youths after they pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of beer, when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier Saturday.

They were: Matthew D. Lesniak, 18, of Harris, LeRoy R. Gauthier, 17, of Wilson, and Robert L. Derouin, 17, of Rte. 1, Escanaba. A fourth party, a juvenile, was cited before the juvenile division of Probate Court on the same charge.

All four were arrested by State Police at 11 p.m. last Friday on County Road C-54. Officers stopped to investigate the stopped car and observed the youths throwing beer cans from the car.

Briefly Told

Gladstone Townsend Club will meet at the City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Bishop's Committee of Trinity Episcopal Church will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the church.

August Mattson Post 71, American Legion, will hold a regular meeting tonight at 8 at the Legion hall. The program will include a movie feature and lunch.

Gladstone City Police ticketed Gary Nieuwenkamp of 601 Montana Ave. for no operator's license on person.

State Police ticketed the following motorists over the past weekend: Gordon McLeod, Rte. 1, Rapid River, no operator's license and no license on trailer; James W. Corey, Powers, improper overtaking and passing; Albert Vietzke, Gladstone, no valid registration plates; and Edward Gouin, 1921 9th Ave. n., defective muffler.

Andrew LeBresh Taken By Death

Andrew LeBresh, 36, of Rock, died at St. Francis Hospital at 5 p.m. Saturday where he had been hospitalized for one month after an automobile accident.

Mr. LeBresh was born June 12, 1926 in Niagara, Wis., and had lived in Rock most of his life. He had been employed by the Snowden Construction Company.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church of Perkins.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. LeBresh Sr., of Rock; one brother, Joseph, also of Rock; two sisters, Mrs. Nicholas (Irene) Bezie, of Rock and Mrs. Marvin (Betty) Jacobson of Little Lake; and a maternal grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Delmonte of Green Bay.

The body was taken to the Skradski Funeral Home where friends may call after 2 p.m. Tuesday. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Wednesday from St. Joseph's Church at Perkins with the Rev. Father Edward Malloy officiating. Burial will be in the Perkins Cemetery.

Rudyard Tops Braves In B Final

Lanky Bulldogs Gain Edge From Foul Line

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

MARQUETTE—The towering Rudyard Bulldogs made believers out of their doubters here Saturday night. Only recently graduated from the small school Class D ranks, Coach Bill Howes' Bulldogs reached the top of the heap in Class B competition by defeating Gladstone 49-40 in the U.P. finals at Northern Michigan University field-house.

In their first year as a Class B school, the Bulldogs drew skeptical glances from Upper Peninsula observers after a 13-3 regular season record in which they played only one Class B opponent, beating the Newberry Indians of the Great Lakes Conference. All their other foes were C and D schools, mostly within the confines of the Little Seven Conference in the eastern tip of the Peninsula.

Rudyard reached the U.P. tournament with decisions over Munising and Manistique in district action but was regarded as the underdog in the regional field here.

The Bulldogs quickly set the record straight when they handled a highly regarded Ironwood Red Devil quip with ease in the semifinals, winning 62-47.

In the title game against Coach Bill Wood's Gladstone Braves, the long-limbed Bulldogs displayed poise and ability in abundance.

Three 6-4 performers up front, plus a 6-0 playmaker at a guard spot, Rudyard towered well over the heads of the Braves who were topped in the height department by Tom Watson at 6-3. No other Gladstone player tops the 6-foot mark.

Gladstone, also competing in Class B tournament competition for the first time, made the Bulldogs fight for everything they got. Although out-rebounded and out-jumped through the game, the Braves were not out-hustled. And, except for one bad period in which they committed eight costly errors, the Braves were not out-played.

In the final accounting, the only difference between the teams Saturday night came at the free throw line. Both quints hit 17 field goals, with Rudyard getting second and third chances because of the height difference. But from the foul line the Bulldogs pumped in 15 of 18 shots while the Braves made six of 12. Gladstone had 13 fouls to Rudyard's 10.

Gladstone opened scoring with a field goal by Pete Kelly but

Big Mitt Show Is Rescheduled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Six fighters who thought they'd have already decided three championship bouts were back in training today as promoters hoped to recoup a $100,000 rain loss by rescheduling their triple header on Thursday.

Driving rain Saturday night forced postponement of the first boxing show ever slated for Dodger Stadium but it wasn't until 30 minutes before the first bout that the card was called off.

Emile Griffith of New York was slated to defend his welterweight championship against Luis Rodriguez, the Cuban ex-patriate who now calls Miami, Fla., his home.

Featherweight king Dave Moore had his title on the line against Sugar Ramos, another Cuban now living in Mexico City, while Raymond (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mexico, and Roberto Cruz of the Philippines were to fight for the vacant junior welterweight crown.

After consulting weather reports that called for showers today, promoters George Parnassus and Cal Eaton decided on Thursday night starting at 8 p.m. PST again in Dodger Stadium.

This time there will be no television and this cost the promoters $70,000, the exact purse guaranteed Griffith to defend his 147-pound championship.

Butts, Bryant Deny Charges

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alabama Coach Paul Bryant and Wallace Butts, former athletic director at the University of Georgia, have issued new denials that they were involved in an alleged football fix.

Bryant said Sunday that he has taken a lie detector test and that the results support his denial.

Butts at first refused to take such a test, and later he said he was willing but his attorney, Wil-

Young Golfer St. Pete Champ

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Young Raymond Floyd went from rags to riches in 274 strokes of his golf clubs.

In four months on the professional tour, he hadn't won a dollar. And then Sunday, with stroke No. 274—a tiny tap to knock in a ball caught on the lip of the 18th hole—he won $3,500.

The tap gave the 20-year-old from Fayetteville, N.C., a one-stroke victory over Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., in the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open.

He did it like Horatio Alger, with a touch of Arnold Palmer thrown in. Floyd shot a 5-under-par 67 in the first round, bounced to a 71 in the second, and came back Saturday with another 67. Then he added that 69 Sunday.

While Floyd was scrambling along under par, the 29-year-old Marr was losing the three-stroke edge with which he began the round. He appeared to be trying to play safe, and putt after putt stopped short. By the end of the front nine, he was already a stroke over par.

Mason Rudolph of Lehigh Acres, Fla., who went into the round with a 208, fired a 4-under-par 68 for a third place total of 276. Tommy Bolt of Palm Desert, Calif., had a 70 to tie Rudolph.

Houghton Repeats As U.P. Class C Basketball King

MARQUETTE — When Upper Peninsula basketball tournament time rolls around, Houghton players and followers begin checking their road maps for the best route to East Lansing.

They'll get a chance to improve their knowledge of Lower Michigan geography this week when the Gremlins travel downstate to compete in the Class C quarter-finals.

Coach Fritz Wilson's cagers successfully defended their Upper Peninsula championship by whipping Copper Country king Ontonagon 56-46 in the regional finals here Saturday night.

In addition to taking all the marbles in the U.P., Houghton extended its winning string to 14 games and gained revenge for one of three regular season defeats. Ontonagon spilled Houghton 74-58 early in the campaign while the Polar Bears were earning their rating as the top Class C quint in the Michigan Associated Press poll.

After trailing through most of the first period the Gremlins made their move late in the third, going ahead to stay on a pair of free throws by 5-11 junior John Fryxell. Houghton had a 25-22 edge at halftime after Ontonagon's John Olson dropped in a pair of free throws one second before the end of the second period.

Houghton began to show its superiority in the third, pulling away to a 37-28 lead at one point, but faltering momentarily in the fourth when Ontonagon rallied to cut its deficit to 39-37.

Three straight swishers on a corner jump shot by Fred Hagan and a driving layup by Fryxell put Houghton out of reach, 47-37, with 2:30 remaining in the game. Hagan frosted it moments later with a three point play, drawing the personnel from Ontonagon's Gary Byrnes, to make it 50-39.

Hagan led both teams in scoring with 17 points and had three mates in double figures. Don Stipech hit 14, 6-2 Charles Noetzel 13 and Fryxell 10.

Larry Makimaa, Coach Dave Tucker's 6-2 junior standout, paced Ontonagon with 14 points and guard Tom Csmarich added a dozen.

Houghton takes a 17-3 record in the downstate quarterfinals while Ontonagon closed the books with a 19-2 mark.

Americans Stun Norwegian Skiers

OSLO (AP) — Norwegian skiers still were shocked today over the sensational performance of two American jumpers in the Holmenkollen Ski Festival.

John C. Balfanz of Minneapolis and Gene Kotlarek of the University of Minnesota-Duluth placed second and fourth in the competition Sunday and almost became the first non-Europeans to win the event.

U.S.-educated Thorbjorn Ygeseth, an aeronautical engineer, won the test by soaring 276 feet, 5 inches in his last jump for 230.25 points. Balfanz had 224.30 points. Kjell Sjoeborg of Sweden was third with 219.55 points and Kotlarek had 219.45 points.

"I have competed with these boys in the United States and know what they are good for," said Ygeseth, a graduate of the University of Washington.

Latin American Rookies Display Batting Prowess

By The Associated Press
A pair of prize rookies from Latin America who broke in their back-to-back batting act with a minor league champion last season seem certain bets to make baseball's big show.

They are Vic Davalillo, 23-year-old Venezuelan outfielder, and Tony Martinez, 21-year-old shortstop whiz from Cuba. Both are ticketed for regular berths with the Cleveland Indians—and they showed why Sunday.

Batting in the same leadoff and second spots they occupied last year for champion Jacksonville of the International League, Davalillo and Martinez rapped seven hits and scored all Cleveland's runs in a 6-5 exhibition victory over the Chicago Cubs at Tucson, Ariz.

Elsewhere on the spring training circuit—Baltimore kept its perfect record going in a 4-3 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers at Miami; Washington had another homer spree, downing Minnesota 8-5 at Pompano Beach, Fla.; Cincinnati bombed the New York Yankees 6-3 at Tampa, Fla.; St. Louis clipped Kansas City 12-11 at Bradenton, Fla.; Boston beat San Francisco 9-6 at El Paso, Tex.; Pittsburgh clouted

Milwaukee 7-1 at West Palm Beach, Fla.; the New York Mets edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 at St. Petersburg, Fla., and Detroit whipped Philadelphia 9-3 at Lakeland, Fla. The Houston Colts and the Los Angeles Angels were rained out at Apache Junction, Ariz.

Davalillo, International League batting champion last season with a .346 average, ripped a triple, double and single against the Cubs. Martinez, tabbed by Cleveland manager Birdie Tebbets as "the Indians' shortstop, period," collected four singles in four trips.

Jackie Brandt's two-run 400-foot homer off Ed Roebuck with none out in the bottom of the ninth exhibition record.

The Senators banged out three homers for the third game in a row in beating the Twins. Chuck Hinton, Don Leppert and Tom Brown, the bonus rookie signed off the Maryland campus less than three weeks ago, connected for Washington.

The Cards overcame the Athletics after trailing 10-0. St. Louis poured across eight runs in the seventh, then won it in the ninth on Carl Sawatski's pinch homer and rookie Jeff Long's run-scoring single with two out.

The Pirates tagged Warren Spahn, Carl Willey and Cecil Butler for 16 hits and dealt Spahn his third straight exhibition setback. Bob Friend and Tom Sturdivant combined to hold the Braves to four hits.

State Tourney Pairings Set

Pairings and sites for the quarterfinal games of the state high school tournament were announced this morning by the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Negaunee St. Paul and Brimley, two Upper Peninsula Class D regional champions, will clash at Pickford for the right to advance to the semifinals at East Lansing.

In Class C, Houghton will take on Harbor Springs at Grayling.

Rudyard, U.P. Class B champ, will face Whitehall at Traverse City.

All games will be played Wednesday, starting at 7:30 p.m.

St. Paul Captures First Cage Title; White Pine Victim

MARQUETTE — A stranger joined Upper Peninsula basketball royalty here Saturday night when Coach Allan Dighera's Negaunee St. Paul Emeralds captured the regional Class D crown at Northern's fieldhouse.

Paced by a pair of underclass stars, the Emeralds whipped White Pine 55-39, to give the school its first regional championship in history.

Rod Guizetti, a 6-2 junior, led St. Paul's assault with 24 points including 10 of 11 from the charity line, and was a dominant figure in the rebounding battle against White Pine's big Steve Bear and Martin Robertson.

Dominic Jacobetti, a 5-11 sophomore, displayed an uncanny shooting eye to break White Pine's back. He potted his first three field goal attempts and followed Guizetti in the scoring column with 17 points.

St. Paul rallied to square the score at 13-13 at the end of the first period and broke out of a 21-21 tie late in the second to take the intermission with a 27-21 bulge.

Coach Ed Helakoski's Warriors, making their first regional tournament appearance, hung on through the third period but folded in the stretch. St. Paul carried a 39-33 lead into the fourth frame.

Taking complete command of the action, St. Paul blanked White Pine for six and a half minutes of the finale, boosting its margin to 47-33 before the Warriors rallied a field goal with 1:50 remaining in the game. The Emeralds took advantage of their lead by scoring 10 of 15 free throw efforts in the quarter as the Warriors committed nine personal fouls.

The Emeralds outscored White Pine 20 to 13 in field goals and converted 15 of 20 free throws. White Pine tallied 13 of 21 from the foul line. Bear was the lone Warrior to reach double scoring figures, hitting 13 points.

St. Paul will take an 18-4 record into the state tournament quarterfinal game against Brimley Wednesday night. Brimley won the split-regional championship at St. Ignace Saturday night by edging downstate Pellston 68-66 in three overtimes.

Tech Lands Two On All-West Team

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — Two Michigan Tech players are on the NCAA All-West college hockey team.

Michigan Tech's Gary Bauman is the goalie on the all-star squad selected by college hockey coaches, and teammate George Hill is at forward.

The coaches named Colorado College's Tony Frasca as Coach of the year.

North Dakota took the 1963 National Collegiate hockey championship here Saturday night, shattering Denver's perfect NCAA record with a 6-5 verdict.

Russians Finish First In Hockey

The United States finished at the bottom of the Group A standings. Canada's Trail Smoke Eaters placed fourth—the first time a Canadian team ever has finished out of the first three in the world championships.

Russia sneaked the title with a slightly better goals record than Sweden. Both Sweden and Russia finished the 10-day championships with 12 points.

The Russians took the crown with a goals score of 14 against six. The Swedes scored 12 against five. The title was decided by subtracting the goals conceded from the goals scored.

Keg Tourney Deadline Set

Deadline for entry in the annual Escanaba Bowling Assn. Men's championship tournament is Friday, March 22, it was announced today by Ernie Vanlerberghe, secretary of the association.

Entry blanks and tournament fees must be returned by the Friday deadline, he stated.

Oregon State Joins Elite National College Finals

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati, Duke and Chicago ranked basketball teams — along with unheralded Oregon State — into the final round of the national collegiate championship this week after surviving the regional tournaments.

Cincinnati, No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll, will be aiming for an unprecedented third straight NCAA title. The Bearcats face upstart Oregon State in the semifinals Friday night at Louisville, Ky.

Second-ranked Duke clashes with Chicago Loyola, No. 3 nationally, in the other semifinal match. The winners meet in the championship game Saturday night after the losers play for consolation honors.

Cincinnati won the Midwest regional at Lawrence, Kan., Saturday night with a 67-60 victory over Colorado. Oregon State stunned fourth-ranked Arizona State 83-65 in the Far West regional final at Provo, Utah.

Duke extended its winning streak to 20 in turning back St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 73-59 in the Eastern Regional title game at College Park, Md. Chicago Loyola was impressive in capturing the Midwest Regional at East Lansing, Mich., with a 79-64 triumph over Illinois.

The National Invitation Tournament at New York's Madison Square Garden continues its quarter-final round Tuesday night with six teams remaining in the field.

The big upset occurred in a quarter-final game Saturday night when top-seeded Wichita, ranked fifth in the AP poll, bowed to Villanova 54-53. The Wildcats had achieved national prominence last month by shattering Cincinnati's 37-game victory string.

Villanova advanced to the semifinals Thursday night along with Canisius, which eliminated Memphis State 76-67 in the other

Slugging Tigers Stretch Victory String To Three

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, displaying slugging power, have won three games in a row and are now over the .500 mark with a 5-4 record in the Florida Grapefruit League's exhibition season.

Among American League teams, the Tigers are tied at 556 with Chicago, Washington and Cleveland for fourth place.

The Tigers jumped on Philadelphia ace Art Mahaffey for five runs and scored a 9-3 victory over the National League Phils Sunday.

Philadelphia nicked Jim Bunning for seven hits in five innings and Don Mossi for three in four innings but stranded eight men on base. Bunning, the winner, was the first Tiger hurler to go five innings.

Sluggers Rocky Colavito and bonus catcher Bill Freehan each had a double and a single for Detroit.

The Phils jolted Bunning for a pair of runs in the first two innings. Doan Hoak singled and so did Wes Covington. Bunning hit the next two hitters to force home a run. Mahaffey lined a homer to left center in the second.

Mahaffey ran into a wild streak in the second and it led to five Tiger runs. Colavito opened with a single. Norm Cash walked and Freehan doubled home Colavito. Two hits and a hit batter forced home two runs and two more tallied on Bill Bruton's single and Whitely Herzog's sacrifice fly.

Cash homered to right to open the third and a single by Vic Wertz and Wertz and Chico Fernandez's line homer to left added two more for Detroit in the sixth.

The Phils added a run in the fourth on Roy Sievers' single, a double by Clay Dalrymple and an infield out.

Dick Mc Auliffe missed the contest after suffering a minor bruise Saturday.

After Sunday's game, Tiger Manager Bob Scheffing talked mostly about Freehan's performance. Freehan has had five hits in his last two games.

"Last year he just didn't seem to have any snap in his swing," said Scheffing. "Now he's getting it and, who knows, if he keeps it up he could be our No. 1 catcher. His catching is good. It's just a question of his bat."

Saturday, Tiger catcher Mike Roark singled home a run in the 11th inning to beat Philadelphia 11-10. The game was another disappointment for Tiger pitcher Frank Lary who was rocked for three runs in the first inning.

Detroit has a game scheduled here today with St. Louis of the National League.

Pistons Bow In Final Tilt

DETROIT (AP) — In the final regular season game of the National Basketball Association, the Detroit Pistons absorbed a 119-105 loss from the St. Louis Hawks Sunday night. The victory gave St. Louis an 8-4 season edge over Detroit.

But the Pistons have another chance.

The two teams clash here again Wednesday night in the opening game of the Western Division's best-of-5 semifinal playoff series.

Cliff Hagan proved the Pistons' undoing in the season's finale. He went on a scoring spree near the end of the third quarter and pulled the Hawks out of a 22-point deficit.

Hagan pumped in five baskets in less than three minutes after the third period. The Hawks, who had trailed by 46-24 early in the second quarter, entered the final period with an 86-79 lead.

The Pistons fired in 15 of 27 shots in the first quarter and they led 32-22. By halftime, the Hawks drew within four, 61-57.

Bob Pettit paced the St. Louis offensive with 28 points and Hagan added 23. Dave DeBusschere was high for Detroit with 19.

In Sunday's other game, the third-place Montreal Canadiens played a 2-2 tie with the Boston Bruins. The Canadiens whipped Detroit 5-3 in the only other game Saturday night.

As a result of the weekend activity, Chicago fell to second, just one point ahead of Montreal. The Canadiens, who have won five straight league titles, trail Toronto by four points. All three teams have three games remaining.

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, hiding behind a mysterious grin, begins a week's rest today unconcerned when or where he will meet Floyd Patterson in a return title bout.

Liston broke camp in Miami Beach, Fla., Sunday and returned to Chicago to give his injured left knee a rest. The maneuver doomed all possibilities of holding the bout in Miami Beach April 10.

"What fight?" asked Liston when questioned by reporters about the apparent postponement. "I'm not mad at anybody. Who wants to fight?"

Liston said he would rest a week before even allowing doctors in Chicago to examine the knee which he reportedly injured while swinging a golf club in a pose for a photographer.

The injury caused a postponement from the original April 4 date of the fight, diminishing chances of a financial success at the gate since the tourist season in Miami ends late in March.

Liston said by resting the knee "I'm trying to beat an operation. If it's okay after the rest I'll start training again in Chicago. If not, then I might have to have the operation."

What about the fight? "Makes no difference to me where it is held," said Liston. "I'd like to get it over with. Then we wouldn't have any contracts to live up to. The fight won't take any longer than the last time."

Liston won the championship last September in Chicago when he knocked out Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round.

Patterson was skeptical about reports of Liston's injured knee. "Liston has been saying that he could fight me on one leg and blindfolded," said the former champion. "I don't see how such a little knee injury could stop him."

In the other quarter-final round Tuesday night, St. Louis encounters Marquette while Miami is paired with Providence.

Marquette and Providence are seeded and received first-round byes. The winners meet in the other semifinal test Thursday.

The NAIA small college championship at Kansas City ended last Saturday night with Pan American of Texas winning the crown. Pan American defeated Western Carolina 73-62 in the final after ousting top-seeded Grambling in the semifinals Friday.

Grambling aimed consolation laurels with a 107-86 lacing of Fort Hayes State.

In NCAA regional consolation games for third place last Saturday, West Virginia bowled over New York University 83-73 in the Eastern Regional; Mississippi State topped Bowling Green 65-60 in the Midwest Regional; Texas polished off Oklahoma City 90-83 in the Far West Regional.

San Francisco shaded UCLA 76-75 in the Far West Regional.

Surgeon's Hobby Requires Seven Years For Pay-Off

Dr. Norman L. Lindquist, Escanaba ophthalmologist and hobbyist floriculturist who has matriculated through iris and tuberous begonias is now in postgraduate growing of orchids.

Michigan has a dozen or more wild orchids, but the exotics that the Escanaba specialist grows in the greenhouse at his home, 1815 Lake Shore Drive, come from far off.

In 1818 a Mr. Swainson (no relative of Ex-Governor Swainson) was collecting mosses and lichens in the Brazil rain forests for shipment to England and used some tough, flat-leaved jungle plants to pack around his bundles. When they arrived in England, William Cattley, an amateur plant enthusiast, took some of the strange plants used as packing home, kept them alive and six years later, in 1824 was rewarded by magnificent blooms that created a horticultural sensation.

Botanists identified them as orchids of a kind never before seen in England and a new genus there called Cattley. Since then, says Dr. Lindquist, millions of beautiful Cattley orchids and other species have been worn by the ladies of the world in their corsages.

20,000 Species Sound
Discovery of the orchids sent many collectors to the Southern American jungles and more were found in Brazil, Colombia, and Costa Rica. Up to the present over 20,000 species have been classified. Orchids are found all over the world, including the Upper Peninsula, where the lady-slipper is found in many places, including Delta County.

The orchid flowered by Cattley in England was characterized by a large, heavy, ruffled lip, so the species was named Cattleya Labiata. Collectors search the jungles for this species, but it was not until 1891 that they were found in great numbers and it was then that commercial florists saw the great possibilities in this exotic flower for corsage use.

The Cattleya orchid is an epiphyte, or a plant that grows on plants, explains Dr. Lindquist. In the jungle it will grow in the crotch of a tree or in the cracks of a rocky wall. It derives no nourishment from the life of the trees and so it is not a parasite. Its roots get their nourishment from organic materials deposited in the crevices of the bark. Their moisture is obtained from the frequent tropical rains and from the high humidity of the jungle.

To grow these plants in a greenhouse, light, humidity and temperature must closely simulate the jungle, but this is being done by hundreds of commercial greenhouses and thousands of hobbyists all over the United States.

A mature orchid plant of good quality can be purchased from some commercial growers for from $5 to $10. Some of the more recent hybrids are more expensive. Orchid plants are started from seeds by commercial growers. Under sterile conditions almost equal to

Low Water May Crimp Shipping

MUSKOGON (AP) — Overseas vessels calling in the area this year might have to bypass hundreds of tons of cargo because of low water in Lake Michigan.

The possibility follows disclosure the lake level has dropped to within inches of its lowest mark in more than 100 years of recorded water levels.

It now is more than 6 inches below the low water datum (576.8 feet above sea level at Father's Point, Quebec) and nearly 1.5 feet below the level of last March.

The level neared comparison with the 1926 low of 575.6 feet and a fractionally lower mark set in 1934.

Receding waters on the big lake mean new expanses of sandy beach for summer resorters but also mean that docks and piers must be extended before reaching required water depths.

SPANISH MOSS

Gray Spanish moss, seen gracefully swaying from cypress trees in picturesque Caribbean gardens, is not Spanish, is not moss, is not a parasite and is not worthless. Once widely used in bridles, saddle blankets and horse collars, today it is used for furniture padding, air-conditioning filters and other items. It is vermin-proof.

Consumers expenditures for food have increased almost 50 per cent since 1950, though farm receipts for the same food increased only 20 per cent.

those of a hospital surgery, the seeds are planted in a glass jar containing a jello-like nutrient similar to the agar plate used in the hospital laboratory for growing bacteria.

The bottle is sealed shut to exclude all molds and bacteria and is kept in a warm sheltered place for about a year. By then there will be several hundred small grass-like plants about an inch high. These are then washed from the jar and replanted in rows in another jar similar to the first. In another year these plants are large enough to transplant into "community" pots.

"Possibly 20 to 25 plants will be planted in rows in osmunda, a tough, fibrous material," said Dr. Lindquist. "It is composed of the roots of a fern grown in Florida. After about a year many of these will be large enough to transplant into small individual pots, in osmunda or small particles of fir bark. As they grow they are transplanted into larger pots and about 7 years after planting of the seeds they may have flowers."

"It is impossible to determine in advance the quality and characteristics of a new hybrid orchid plant obtained by cross-pollinating different species of orchids. Human beings have 46 chromosomes and hundreds of genes, therefore all the offspring of a given set of parents will have different characteristics and many similarities. So it is with orchids. The various species may have from 20 to 100 chromosomes and possibly a thousand genes (inheritance factors)."

"Therefore of the 100 or more seedlings from a single cross, you can expect a fair share of duds, many fine average plants and possibly a few beautiful prize winners. You need only to wait patiently for seven years to find out."

"The orchids most commonly used in corsages are the Cattleya, the Cymbidium and the Vanda. The bloom of a Cattleya will last three to four weeks on the plant, the Cymbidium 5 or 6 weeks, and some species will maintain a beautiful flower for six months. The Cymbidium orchid prefers a cool climate and is probably the easiest to grow and flower in an Upper Peninsula greenhouse. The Vanda orchid requires much heat and sunshine and most of these are flown to the United States from Hawaii."

Gogebic Effort To Get Industry Making History

By JEAN WORTH

Gogebic County's effort to improve its economy, dashed by the near collapse of iron mining, has had the most spectacular start of any self-development effort in the history of the Upper Peninsula.

GO-INC — Gogebic Organization for an Industrially New County — has had an amazing initial success in raising more than $112,000 for a three year program of leadership in economic development. This money is to finance the organization of new economic enterprise and the expansion of existing enterprise. If money is needed for plants and other facilities that will be provided separately.

This sort of organization — the executive will be in the $15,000 salary class — is unique in U.P. county development efforts. Gogebic has won much admiration for its generous and courageous support of this program. It changes a public image of the area as one that was almost solely dependent upon mining and unwilling to change its ways much to seek other industry, and which was reluctant to believe that underground iron mining was in such serious difficulties that it needed a lifeline.

Problems Ahead
Gogebic's dramatic venture to change and expand the base of its economy has marshalled so much public support that it is backed even with money, an acid test of such intentions. But it has great problems to overcome. The complex of difficulties includes:

1. Many communities are actively and ably engaged in the industry hunt.
2. Mining skills are not easily transferable or convertible to other manufacturing type industry.
3. Miners are well paid and other employment which is less well paid suffers by comparison in substitution. This has been notable in U.P. efforts to provide recreation industry jobs for displaced miners. They're apt to regard the pay as pitifully small.
4. The county lacks a tradition in manufacturing. Preparation for it will involve increased adult education. This makes fortunate and apt the county's approach to its problems, as GO-INC can use its resources for the greatest advantage and this may, in the initial phase, be in technical schooling rather than in building factory smokestacks.

Public Attitude

5. A successful relationship between community and manufacturing industry evolves from relationships and involves quite a little of "Ask not what industry can do for the community, but what can the community do for industry?" This is a sharp reversal of the traditional mining community relationship to the mining company.

So public attitude is a vital ingredient of the process of industrial development.

Gogebic's troubles were in sight some years ago. Mineral industry is always a wasting one — when the ore is gone the industry dies — but Gogebic's mines have expired short of ore exhaustion because of market changes. Mineral industry made some investments in change but the community lagged and so the fruits of early co-operation were lost.

With the mines closing the range's miners looked elsewhere for work. Twenty-five are employed in a Mercer, Wis., electronic plant 20 miles from Ironwood. Four hundred drive 50 miles daily to White Pine (or take the $1 bus — "you can't run a car for that") to work in the copper mine or smelter. Some have gone to Missouri to mine iron and weekend at home when they can. In the belt tightening at home, Ironwood has cut its garbage trucks from two to one.

Population Declines

Gogebic County had a population of 13,166 in 1890. In 1920 it was up to peak of 33,225. In 1960 it was down to 24,370.

In the decade 1950-60 the cities of Ironwood, Bessemer and Wakefield and the townships of Bessemer, Erwin, Ironwood, Wakefield, Marquette and Watersmeet all lost population as the county slid from 27,053 to 24,370.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission rates the Gogebic County labor force at 6,800 persons. It is estimated that the 6,800 represent 17,068 persons, or 2.51 per family.

Of the labor force of 6,800 on Jan. 1 there were 5,800 employed and 1,000 unemployed.

At the peak of iron ore mining in Gogebic County there were between 6,000 and 6,500 iron ore miners in the county. On Jan. 1 there were 480.

The Gogebic Industrial Bureau estimates that 85 families moved from Gogebic County in 1962. This number does not include families still living there which are supported by persons working elsewhere. The estimated number of individuals who have moved is 335.

Mine Closings

The number of social security beneficiaries in the county on Jan. 1, 1962 was 3,606, including 1,939 retired workers, 201 disabled, etc. An estimated increase of 305 in the year brought the total to 3,911 on Jan. 1.

The county welfare program at the end of 1962 had 993 on direct relief, 361 on old age assistance, 204 dependent children, etc., for a total of 1,702.

Major closings of industries since January, 1960 include:

- Hansen Glove Co., 112 employees.
- Sunday Lake Mine, 237 employees.
- North Range Mine, 325 employees.
- Montreal Mine, 600 employees, 170 from Gogebic.
- The county had up to 25 mines once, now it has two operating, the Peterson Mine in Bessemer operated by the Granite City Steel Co., and the Geneva Mine in Bessemer Township operated by the Mauthe Mining Co. and both managed by Pickands-Mather. Mining companies used to pay 93 per cent of the taxes. Now Ironwood and Wakefield have no mines.

Nationality Groups Invited Into GOP

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Romney and the Republican State Central Committee have invited representatives of 30 nationalities to a Detroit rally March 23 to reorganize the Romney Volunteer Ethnic Groups which played a part in Romney's successful campaign.

Romney will keynote the rally with a talk on how he feels national groups "can help build the Republican party organization into a true citizens' party." Delegates will organize a statewide Republican nationalities advisory council.

Stock Comeback Story Is Told

NEW YORK (AP) — The story behind "the most dramatic stock market events in more than three decades" was told today by the New York Stock Exchange.

It reported what investors did during the May 28, 1962 market crash and the May 29-31 recovery.

On "Black Monday," May 28, the market was rocked by its worst loss since 1929. About midday Tuesday it made an abrupt about face and scored a partial recovery. On Thursday, after a Memorial Day holiday respite, it more than recaptured Monday's loss.

During this period 35 million shares changed hands in 673,000 individual transactions, swamping the exchange's reporting facilities.

The exchange surveyed a portion of these transactions to find out who was buying and selling, said Keith Funston, exchange president.

Here is what the survey showed: —The public, individuals, sold heavily when the market was declining and bought heavily when it was rising.

—Financial institutions, commercial banks and non-member broker-dealers ducked market trends throughout the three days, buying when individual investors were selling, and vice versa.

—Individual exchange members and member organizations, in general, were net buyers when the market was declining and net sellers as the market rose.

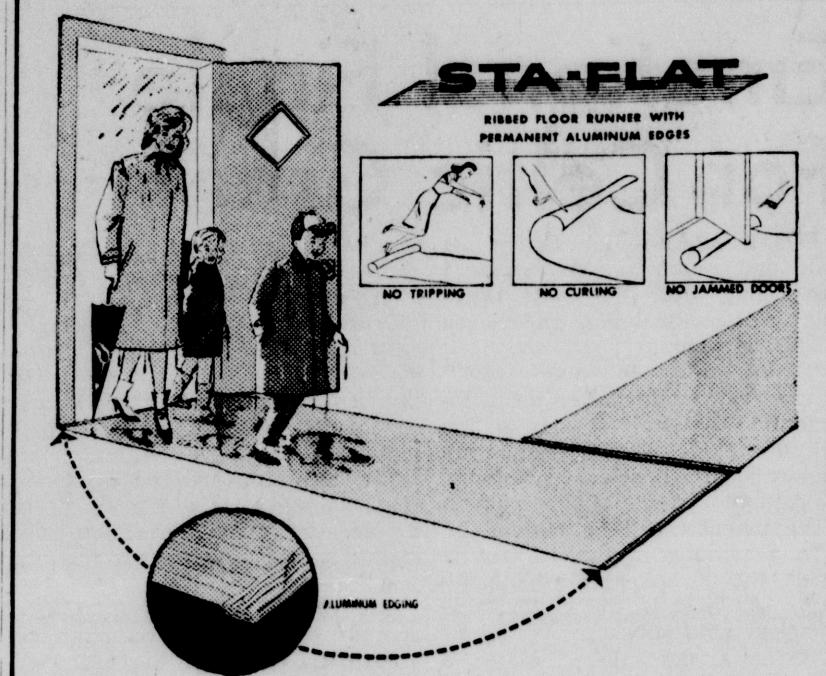

The survey also showed that over the three days individuals in the middle and upper income groups were net sellers. Those in the under-$10,000 income category were substantial net buyers, especially on May 31. Investors with incomes under $5,000 were buyers, even on May 28, when all others sold on balance.
